

City Council Increases Salary For Mayor, City Auditor

Circleville Council increased the salary of the offices of mayor and city auditor Tuesday.

The salary of mayor was upped to $6,000 annually and is specified in the ordinance as a part-time position.

The salary of auditor was set at $10,000 annually. Both wage increases become effective Jan. 1, 1976, because the salaries of elected officials cannot be increased during their term in office.

An ordinance was also passed by council authorizing the payment of $358.16 to Harriet Wallace for unused vacation time during 1974.

Mrs. Wallace was the former clerk of the city health department, a capacity she held for over 35 years. During her tenure in the office, Mrs. Wallace never took a vacation.

Mayor Frank Barnhill told council that Mrs. Wallace was entitled to four weeks annual vacation. City ordinance does not permit employees to accrue vacations from one year to the next so she would be eligible to receive only the money for the 1974 vacation.

An ordinance authorizing the public utilities department to advertise for bids for an accounting machine was held to a first reading at the request of Councilman David Crawford.

The accounting machine will permit the water department to handle the billing for customers locally. It is presently being handled by a firm in Marion. Crawford pointed out billing the public for water and sewage has been a "big problem" and he felt that council members should discuss the proposed purchase thoroughly with members of the board of public utilities and with Charles Taylor, public utilities director.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Council members present at Tuesday's meeting were Ben Gordon, David Crawford, Tom Wells, David Goldschmidt, John Jenkins, Harold Hoffman and Dixie Watters, council president Joe Bell, Clerk Robert Shadley, Mayor Barnhill and city attorney John Adkins.

Goldschmidt reported that action will be taken in the near future on a request for a street light at the intersection of Northridge Road and Garden Parkway. The light has been requested for quite some time by John Evans.

City service director Atwood Jones announced that bids will be taken April 9 for the demolition of buildings on Washington Street and their removal from property recently purchased by the city for the service department.

Jones also announced the equalization board will hold hearings beginning 8 a.m. Friday to discuss objections to assessments levied property owners involving the Nicholas Drive Improvement project. Jones emphasized the hearings are only for those people who filed written objections at an earlier meeting. The people involved have been notified he said.

Don Wolf, chief of operations of the public utilities department, said that work is progressing as well as could be expected on the city sewage treatment plant and that a third well has been drilled for the water supply. The well will be put into service soon, Wolf reported.

Gordon announced that he has been contacted by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb concerning a request for a new copy machine for the court. Council agreed the judge needs a new copier, but Crawford asked the city to look into the possibility of having one copier that could be used by all departments.

Chief of Police Robert Temple noted that all Norfolk and Western Trains going through Circleville are now operating on a 10 mile per hour speed limit because of the condition at the South Court Street crossing. He also noted the LEADS machine the city has is not working. Funds to pay the leasing of the equipment have been appropriated for two years. The Ohio State Highway Patrol who provides the equipment informed the chief it is having problems with the network frequency assigned to Circleville.

The chief also nounced that Dick Lamb, night dispatcher, has accepted a position with the Ohio Department of Natural Resources and has submitted his resignation effective April 1. Lowell Ferguson has accepted the position of dispatcher.

Councilman Crawford informed Service Director Jones that several residents of North Pickaway Street area were complaining of the dirt on the street created by the truck traffic from the construction sight at Berger Hospital. Jones stated the problem stemmed from one of the sub contractors.

A letter from Columbia Gas of Ohio was read informing council of an 8.07 cents per 1,000 cubic foot increase in the gas rates to residential customers.

Councilman John Jenkins asked safety director Ed Ebert if he had taken any action of a request to have a no left turn sign placed at the intersection of Western Avenue and Main Street. According to Jenkins, a safety hazard is created when motorists stopped by oncoming traffic have to wait to make the turn. He noted that sometimes cars are backed up to the railroad track. Ebert said that although he has not yet studied the situation he will look into it at his first opportunity.

Viets Want Thieu Out

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — In its first open break with President Nguyen Van Thieu, the previously progovernment South Vietnamese Senate today made a unanimous call for "a new leadership" to end the war.

A resolution passed by the Senate charged Thieu with "counting exclusively on a military solution ... in solving a war with many political characteristics" and said he is guilty of "an abuse of power, corruption and social injustice."

The Senate, regarded as little more than a rubber-stamp body since pro-Thieu candidates took control of it nearly two years ago, passed the resolution by a vote of 41 to 0 during a ninehour special session called to discuss the crumbling of Saigon's forces before the monthlong North Vietnamese offensive.

The resolution also charged the United States with failure to respect its "commitments" to South Vietnam.

It came at a time when Thieu is under increasing fire from radical and moderate political leaders and previously respectful government officials and military officers for his handling of the war.

Military and administrative authorities fled from Tuy Hoa, Phan Rang, Phan Thiet, Dalat and Cam Ranh, the latter with its big military base and deepwater port that U.S. forces established.

The latest retreat of the Saigon government's demoralized forces brought the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong holdings to three-fourths of South Vietnam, including total control of 17 of the 44 provinces and a third of the 244 district capitals. Their zone along the coast now extends to within 100 miles of Saigon, although their forces are considerably closer inland to the north and northwest of the city.

Vietnamese officials said four American cargo ships that have been trying to evacuate refugees from the Communist advance would be stationed off the abandoned cities in

CHANGING SHIPS—South Vietnamese marines leap in panic from aboard an LST in DaNang harbor to a cutter during evacuation from the city, shortly before its fall to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

hopes some of those left behind could get out to the ships. But it appeared that few if any could escape unless the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were unable to take control of so much territory at once, a difficulty they have not apparently had so far.

President Nguyen Van Thieu summoned Premier Tran Thien Khiem, his cabinet and the top military commanders to a meeting. There was speculation that a new cabinet would be announced.

U.S. officials said they anticipated the Communist command would order a push on Saigon, but predictions of when varied. Many key American officers in Washington said South Vietnam may go down the drain in two to four months unless the North Vietnamese are unprepared to make the final attack.

The Cambodian government also lost ground. The Khmer Rouge insurgents captured the town and naval base of Neak Luong and neighboring Banam, the government's last foothold on the Mekong River below Phnom Penh. Khmer Rouge forces were also drawing closer to Battambang, the country's second largest city 180 miles northwest of Phnom Penh, and its capture appeared near.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the former chief of state and head of the government-in-exile in Peking, rejected negotiations with the remnants of the regime President Lon Nol left when he quit the country Tuesday. But Lon Nol's premier, Long Boret, was scheduled to arrive in Bangkok on Thursday night to look into the possibility of peace talks in the Thai capital.

Cambodians Lose Last River Post

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government lost its last outpost on the Mekong River below Phnom Penh today, and insurgent forces were reported on the doorstep of the country's second largest city, Battambang, in the northwest rice bowl.

From Peking, Prince Norodom Sihanouk ruled out negotiations with the Phnom Penh government despite the departure from the country Tuesday of President Lon Nol. However, sources in Bangkok said Premier Long Boret, who accompanied Lon Nol to the island of Bali, in Indonesia, was expected there Thursday to look into the possibility of peace talks.

Military sources said Khmer Rouge forces on Tuesday afternoon overran the Mekong river town and naval base at Neak Luong and nearby Banam, 32 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

They had been under siege for 2½ months and were jammed with 25,000 to 30,000 civilians and soldiers. Little was known of their fate.

Survivors who reached Phnom Penh today in three navy gunboats said that the government commander, Gen. Lim Sisaath, was lost along with at least four other high-ranking officers. They said 11 craft had set out with about 150 soldiers and civilians aboard, but one boat hit a mine and burned out and they did not know the fate of the others.

Government convoys have been unable to use the Mekong since the beginning of the year, and there was no hope that the Cambodian army could reopen it. But the fall of Neak Luong was likely to have an adverse psychological effect on the government's remaining forces. And it freed an estimated 6,000 Khmer Rouge troops to join the siege of Phnom Penh, where outnumbered government forces are manning defense lines three to 15 miles from the center of the capital.

Western observers returning from Battambang reported fierce fighting three miles southeast of the city and said the Khmer Rouge had captured five outlying villages in the past two days. They said the insurgent advance had pushed thousands of new refugees into the provincial capital.

Airlift Of Vietnam Orphans Canceled Due To Dispute

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — An airline president's plan to fly about Vietnamese orphan babies to the United States to escape was canceled today.

Ed Daly, the flamboyant president of the charter airline, World Airways, blamed the U.S. Embassy.

"USAID screwed us up," declared Daly in a news conference at Tan Son Nhut airport, referring to the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Unshaven and wearing a green beret and a gray safari suit, the 52-year-old aerial wildcatter said USAID officials told the relief organizations from whose orphanages he was going to take the children that his planes were unsafe.

Daly said he had approval from the South Vietnamese government to fly the children out.

"This is obviously because of our defiance last Saturday in flying into Da Nang to remove 350 refugees," he said. "This is sheer retaliation by the U.S. Embassy."

The Embassy had advised against that flight by one of Daly's two Boeing 727 jets. At Da Nang South Vietnamese troops fought their way past civilians to get on the plane; one who didn't make it threw a hand grenade that damaged the rear end of the aircraft as it was taking off, and several soldiers were killed when they tried to hang on to the wheels.

The Embassy had no immediate comment on Daly's charge.

Most of the babies were to have come from an orphanage operated by an American organization called Friends of All Children. Accompanied by four doctors and 17 American, Australian and British nurses, the infants were to have been flown in a World Airways DC8 cargo jet to San Francisco via Tokyo and Hawaii.

An official of Friends of All Children in New York said most of the babies were already spoken for, and the organization has a long waiting list for the rest.

Rate Hikes Turned Down

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two requests for emergency rate increases were rejected Monday by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

The denials went to Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. on a request for a 14.6 per cent surcharge on existing rates and to the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. for an 8.6 per cent increase to rates paid by Cincinnati customers.

CEI had contended the increase was necessary so it could receive the rate of return authorized by the PUCO. The utility serves all or portions of Cuyahoga, Geauga, Ashland, Medina, Summit and Lorain counties.

The commission decided that to allow CG&E to impose higher rates "merely to improve a utility's position in the financial markets on the basis that this benefits the customer in the long run would not be proper."

U.S. Experts See Vietnam Fall Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many key U.S. military officers believe South Vietnam may go down the drain in 60 to 120 days if the North Vietnamese army sustains its momentum.

They think the North Vietnamese could concentrate their striking forces in that length of time in sufficient strength to strike the final blow in the Saigon region.

However, these officers hold out the possibility that the North Vietnamese may have been surprised at the rapid collapse of South Vietnam's resistance in two-thirds of the country and may be unprepared to move into the final attack for some time.

The North Vietnamese also are faced with the new situation of administering those places they have overrun.

Although the prevailing mood is one of deep pessimism, there are some officers who still say there is a basis for hope that the South Vietnamese Army will regain its balance and establish an effective defense of the remaining government-held areas in the Saigon region and the Mekong River delta.

Meanwhile, there were these related developments:

—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met for three hours Monday afternoon with 12 foreign policy experts, many of whom helped shape U.S. policy in Southeast Asia in prior administrations.

Participants indicated that it was the first time Kissinger had sought the views of such a large group, but they denied that the meeting was convened because of any emergency.

—"Modest quantities" of military equipment from National Guard units in the United States are being rushed to Vietnam for emergency resupply of Vietnamese forces, officials said.

—Some 700 Marines were sent to protect U.S. Navy ships while they evacuate civilian refugees from South Vietnam, Pentagon officials announced.

—At the United Nations, U.S. Ambassador John A. Scali called on Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim to appeal to all parties not to interfere with the evacuation of the refugees.

—Presidential Press Secretary Ron Nessen reported, and later retracted, that the United States is engaged in "continuing diplomatic initiatives" to obtain a negotiated settlement of the war.

—Assistant Secretary of State Philip Habib said he "anticipates" that President Ford will ask Congress to vote "substantial funds" for aid to South Vietnam, if Ford decides that the South Vietnamese government has the capacity to "stabilize the military situation."

—Two Democratic senators differed with statements by President Ford and other officials blaming Congress for the military reverses.

Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana said, "Hue and Da Nang were not abandoned because South Vietnamese troops did not have the ammunition and equipment to fight. They were abandoned because of a disastrous failure of leadership and loss of the will to fight."

Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen of Texas said the Communist offensive is a test of will and leadership in Saigon, not Washington. "So far that leadership has not met the test," Bentsen said.

'Legislative' Budget Hammered Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Gov. James A. Rhodes' $12.2 billion budget bill apparently will give way to a "legislative" document of about the same size which should reach the House floor the first week in May.

House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, gave that word Tuesday following the first formal finance committee hearing on the Republican governor's record-high spending proposal.

Most state lawmakers are taking a spring vacation this week, but finance committees of both chambers scheduled hearings on the two-year state budget. It will finance Ohio's government for the two years starting July 1.

The Senate must consider the bill after House action.

There were skeleton sessions of the Senate and House, in addition to Shoemaker's meeting.

Tuesday night, a human resources subsection of the same panel heard the budget request of the Public Utilities Commission. It seeks to nearly double its current $8.1 million outlay, mostly to hire more than 100 new employees to help deal with utility rate increase requests.

The afternoon session of the finance committee dealt mostly with a proposal, offered last month by Rhodes but later abandoned by him, to collect corporate franchise taxes in advance to balance the GOP administration's budget.

Howard L. Collier, director of the Office of Budget and Management, said Rhodes' reversal means that unless a substitute is agreed on by the Democrat-controlled legislature, the state could go almost immediately into the red after the start of the new fiscal year.

Shoemaker, whose committee already has had extensive hearings on an $11.5 billion spending proposal left behind by former Gov. John J. Gilligan, indicated Gilligan's budget would be the budget vehicle.

It contains no provisions for advance tax collections, and "is balanced," Shoemaker said.

He said he expects a House finance subcommittee to take the two governors' proposals and combine them into one, starting in two weeks.

Gilligan's proposal has been changed considerably by Shoemaker's committee. It bears the name of the committee chairman as chief sponsor and Democratic leaders said it will emerge as a "legislative" budget.

Rhodes originally proposed a change to quarterly payments, a year in advance, of franchise taxes paid by corporations for the right of doing business in Ohio. Because of the way the state manages its cash flow, it would have meant a one-time cash pickup of $85 million which in turn would have provided elasticity for a so-called "cash draw down" of another $220 million.

Collier explained that if the committee rejects the change, in line with the governor's present wishes, "someone" will have to come up with about $300 million from other sources. The alternate, he said, would be a state deficit of $17.9 million as early as four months into the 1975-1977 fiscal biennium.

'Legislative' Budget Hammered Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' $12.2 billion budget bill apparently will give way to a "legislative" document of about the same size which should reach the House floor the first week in May.

House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, gave that word Tuesday following the first formal finance committee hearing on the Republican governor's record-high spending proposal.

Most state lawmakers are taking a spring vacation this week, but finance committees of both chambers scheduled hearings on the two-year state budget. It will finance Ohio's government for the two years starting July 1.

The Senate must consider the bill after House action.

There were skeleton sessions of the Senate and House, in addition to Shoemaker's meeting.

Tuesday night, a human resources subsection of the same panel heard the budget request of the Public Utilities Commission. It seeks to nearly double its current $8.1 million outlay, mostly to hire more than 100 new employees to help deal with utility rate increase requests.

The afternoon session of the finance committee dealt mostly with a proposal, offered last month by Rhodes but later abandoned by him, to collect corporate franchise taxes in advance to balance the GOP administration's budget.

Howard L. Collier, director of the Office of Budget and Management, said Rhodes' reversal means that unless a substitute is agreed on by the Democrat-controlled legislature, the state could go almost immediately into the red after the start of the new fiscal year.

Shoemaker, whose committee already has had extensive hearings on an $11.5 billion spending proposal left behind by former Gov. John J. Gilligan, indicated Gilligan's budget would be the budget vehicle.

It contains no provisions for advance tax collections, and "is balanced," Shoemaker said.

He said he expects a House finance subcommittee to take the two governors' proposals and combine them into one, starting in two weeks.

Gilligan's proposal has been changed considerably by Shoemaker's committee. It bears the name of the committee chairman as chief sponsor and Democratic leaders said it will emerge as a "legislative" budget.

Rhodes originally proposed a change to quarterly payments, a year in advance, of franchise taxes paid by corporations for the right of doing business in Ohio. Because of the way the state manages its cash flow, it would have meant a one-time cash pickup of $85 million which in turn would have provided elasticity for a so-called "cash draw down" of another $220 million.

Collier explained that if the committee rejects the change, in line with the governor's present wishes, "someone" will have to come up with about $300 million from other sources. The alternate, he said, would be a state deficit of $17.9 million as early as four months into the 1975-1977 fiscal biennium.

"Without the franchise payment pattern change, we have almost an immediate and unmanageable negative cash flow," the director said. Collier said he had no suggestion for making up the $300 million, explaining that he was appearing to discuss "a mutual problem."

Shoemaker indicated he didn't think the problem was mutual, but was one created by Rhodes.

"It's not in my bill," he said of the corporate franchise proposal. The chairman stressed he thought Rhodes was "sincere, although I don't know who sold him on it."

"I just think the pressure got to him, the manufacturers association and the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, because it went against past Republican policies."

Shoemaker planned to continue hearings today on the Rhodes' budget prior to another committee session Thursday. At that time his panel will start considering a major bill to revise the formula under which the state allocates funds to secondary and elementary schools.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned upward today with a brief late-morning surge of buying apparently set off by a minicomputer manufacturers favorable quarterly earnings report.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which took about a 6-point jump between 11 and 11:30 a.m., showed a 3.44 gain at 765.02 at noon. Gainers held a 3-2 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

On Tuesday Data General reported earnings for the quarter ended March 15 of 35 cents a share, against 23 cents in the like period a year ago. Brokers said it stirred up some general interest among investors who have been bracing for some expected poor earnings showing for the first quarter because of the recession.

Data General shares gained 3/4 to 24 1/2 in active trading after a 2 1/2-point surge Tuesday.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose .26 to 79.76.

Several other electronics and data processing issues showed strong gains in apparent response to the Data General figures.

The NYSE's composite index gained .15 to 43.99.

Kin-Ark, the Amex volume leader, added 1/4 to 1 1/2.

Chamber Of Commerce Takes Stand On RR Reorganization Act

Jean Ankrom represented the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce at the ICC hearings in Columbus on March 21. Mrs. Ankrom is the executive director for the local Chamber and testified at the hearings on how the Railroad Reorganization Act can and will affect Circleville.

She testified on the behalf of Eshelman's, USS Chemicals, Purina and other local companies who depend on the railroad for their commercial transportation.

The board of directors of the local Chamber voiced their appreciation for Mrs. Ankrom's efforts at the regular meeting of the board Tuesday.

Other items presented to the board during the monthly meeting was a report on the endorsement given for the Vocational School's program on small business managers and owners. The chamber had endorsed the program and Earl Palm and Richard Gerhardt acted as instructors.

Ohio University has asked the Chamber for similar support for a program they are co-sponsoring with the United States Small Business group. The board of directors gave their verbal support for the program.

Gerhardt was the first committee chairman to give his report. He asked the board for approval of seven items under industrial promotion and community appearance. His Area Development committee recommended to the board that it encourage industrial expansion and the settling of other industries in the Circleville area. He pointed out that the county unemployment rate is 7.2 per cent while the state average is 9.2 per cent. Another item which Gerhardt brought to the attention of the board was the request for the establishment of an Old Courthouse Circle Commission whose main objective was to restore the buildings in the original circle.

A lengthy discussion followed among the board of directors members concerning the real authority of any committee as a representative of the Chamber of Commerce. It was decided that any committee must first present its recommendations to the board before taking any action.

The board then, after defining the authority of the Area Development Committee, gave approval for that committee to proceed with the seven items on the list. Only one dissenting vote was cast on the final motion.

The Safety Committee, chaired by Asa Elsea, has met concerning the disaster program. Elsea advised the board that the community is still without any disaster plan.

The Legislative Committee has been very active lately. On March 25, State Senator Oakley Collins met with the group. Monday, the county commissioners met with the committee and discussed the local happenings. Bill Radcliff and Bill Harsha have agreed to talk with the committee in April along with the city mayor and the city council members concerning the city problems.

In other action, the board approved the Gabe Equipment Company as a member. Equitable Federal is also a new member.

Rosemary Linn reported that the Retail Merchants have the old car which they will raffie. Tickets will be on sale in the very near future and the auto will be placed in various locations downtown for public inspection.

Steve Stevenson advised the board that the manning of the airport which was a topic for discussion at the March meeting had been improved.

Clean-up week begins April 28.

PUCO Seeks Big Boost In Budget

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Faster decisions on rate increase requests was listed by the Public Utilities Commission Tuesday night as the top priority under its record-high budget request for the 1975-1977 biennium.

Commission Chairman Lewis Heckman, along with Commissioners Sally Bloomfield and David C. Sweet, took their request for $15.9 million to the human resources subsection of the House Finance Committee. The committee is one of three panels continuing to meet during the legislature's week-long spring vacation.

Heckman, named chairman only last week by Gov. James A. Rhodes, let senior commissioner Bloomfield field most of the committee's questions on the spending request. It compares to a current appropriation of $8.1 million, and represents a 95 per cent increase.

Mrs. Bloomfield said that the additional funds would permit the commission to hire more than 100 new employees to make faster, more thorough investigations of rate hike requests. It would cut the average time for decisions from about 22 months to nine months, she said.

Mrs. Bloomfield also said part of the increase would permit the commission to take over functions of Ohio's temporary Energy Emergency Commission, which goes out of existence next Jan. 1.

The legislature, when it created the energy commission last year, mandated that its functions would be

Glenn Sees Grim Future In Vietnam

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, said Tuesday he doubts if South Vietnam can reorganize its forces in time to repulse the current Communist offensive.

Glenn said South Vietnam's survival depends on whether it can reorganize its forces around Saigon and the Mekong Delta to stem the Communist drive south.

"I think it's doubtful they can get themselves organized to protect the rest of Vietnam," he said.

"There has been a complete breakdown in their forces," Glenn said. "Their troops are breaking and running."

He noted that some crack troops in the north panicked and fled, kicking their way through crowds of civilian refugees to grab spots on evacuation planes.

He called the situation "absolutely atrocious," but added that "I don't know how we could have prevented it."

Glenn said $260 million in aid is available to South Vietnam without further congressional action, but it is not the crucial factor.

"Unless they can get reorganized, further aid won't help them," he said. "It's not been a lack of aid, it's a lack of their own will. In the final analysis, it will be up to them to determine what they want to do with their country."

transferred to the PUCO, Mrs. Bloomfield recalled.

Most of the $7.8 million in new money would come from utility assessments and transportation fees, the latter charged by the commission for regulation of the motor carriers and railroads. The assessments would go from $4.6 million to $9 million over the two-year budget period, and the fees from $3.5 million to $4.4 million.

The commission—which historically has operated with its own revenues—also is seeking a $2.5 million appropriation from the state's general fund, however. The money would be earmarked mostly for new energy-related responsibilities, Mrs. Bloomfield explained.

Rep. Sam Speck, R-95 New Concord, said he had questions about permitting the commission to receive general fund appropriations, saying he knew what usually happened "once the camel gets his nose into the tent."

Microwave Warning Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manufacturers of microwave ovens are being required by the government to affix permanent cautionary operating labels on the appliances to reduce the possibility of consumer injuries.

The Food and Drug Administration said Monday that permanent labels will be required on all microwave ovens manufactured after Oct. 3. Previously the FDA required that the instructions be contained in operating manuals, but the manuals often were lost after the ovens were purchased.

The new labels will read: "Precautions for safe use to avoid possible exposure to excessive microwave energy. Do not attempt to operate this oven with (a) object caught in the door (b) door that does not close properly (c) damaged door, hinge, latch or sealing surface."

A second label will be required advising that the oven should be serviced only by qualified personnel and that the service manual should be consulted for proper repairs.

Tornado Effects On Schools Eyed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A team of university professors says the worst effect of a tornado on a school building is a savage blast of wind caused by the funnel's rotation and forward speed.

The report was released Tuesday by the National Weather Service. It said the safest place in a school during a tornado is the basement. If there is no basement the safest place usually will be interior corridors on the lowest floor.

Among the professors conducting the research was Uwe F. Koehler of Ball State University.

Mental Health Chief Blasts Gilligan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new mental health director claims the highly-touted reforms of former Gov. John J. Gilligan were largely cosmetic, while the department overall has deteriorated to "grossly substandard levels."

Dr. Timothy B. Moritz, director of the Department of Mental Retardation, said while budgets were spent on equipment, buildings and custodial care workers, professional staff workers, including physicians and psychiatrists, were ignored.

He said professionals have left the department in droves, and the staffing level has "made a farce of the terms, 'hospital, mental health center and institutions.'"

"We are near the point of having to take the signs down which call our institutions 'hospitals,'" he said.

"The quantity and quality of medical and psychiatric staff in the state's mental hospitals and institutions...has deteriorated dramatically since 1970 to grossly substandard levels which jeopardize the lives of institution residents," Moritz said. "I was shocked by the conditions which I inherited."

Moritz told a Columbus news conference on Tuesday that he has asked the House Finance Committee to implement a revised pay schedule recommended by the Ohio Civil Service Commission.

He said the revised scale would raise the starting salary for state physicians from $15,300 to $22,838. He said the average physician in private practice makes $49,000 a year.

At present, he said, "recruitment is an exercise in futility. The salaries are so low you don't have a fighting chance."

Physicians and psychiatrists have abandoned the department, he said, leaving institutions woefully understaffed.

He said 16 mental hospitals and six institutions for the mentally retarded have no certified staff psychiatrists. The number of staff physicians has declined 37 per cent since 1970, excluding private physicians under contract, he said. When medical assistants are included, he said, the state has lost 40.7 per cent of its civil service medical manpower since 1970.

He said five state institutions for the mentally retarded have no certified pediatrician; none of the three children's psychiatric hospitals have a certified child psychiatrist, and there are no neurologists or specialists in rehabilitation medicine anywhere in the department.

"The net result has been an accelerating deterioration of the treatment and habilitation capacity of state institutions," he said.

Court Denies Motions For Probation

Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer denied three motions for early release of prisoners under the provisions of the Shock Probation Statute.

Lloyd Lee Barnhart had applied for suspension of further execution of his three sentences under the statute and the court denied the motion on the grounds of Barnhart's record.

Judge Ammer ruled that due to the previous criminal activity of the prisoner dating back to 1959, he was not a likely candidate for shock probation.

Barnhart was sentenced to three concurrent terms of 4-25, 1-5 and 1-5 years on charges of breaking and entering, aggravated burglary and grand theft.

The court also denied a similar motion filed by Pearl Franklin Barnhart. Barnhart pleaded guilty to four charges of forgery, one count of breaking and entering and one count of grand theft.

He was subsequently sentenced to six concurrent terms of 2-5 years each. Ammer also cited his previous record as grounds for denying the motion for early release.

A third motion was overruled, filed by Michael Eugene Hunt. Hunt was sentenced Dec. 19, 1974 for breaking and entering and grand theft. He was sentenced to two concurrent terms of six months to five years each.

Two other individuals filed for shock probation and the court ordered post-sentence reports to be made before making a final decision on the motions.

Chamber Of Commerce Takes Stand On RR Reorganization Act

Jean Ankrom represented the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce at the ICC hearings in Columbus on March 21. Mrs. Ankrom is the executive director for the local Chamber and testified at the hearings on how the Railroad Reorganization Act can and will affect Circleville.

She testified on the behalf of Eshelman's, USS Chemicals, Purina and other local companies who depend on the railroad for their commercial transportation.

The board of directors of the local Chamber voiced their appreciation for Mrs. Ankrom's efforts at the regular meeting of the board Tuesday.

Other items presented to the board during the monthly meeting was a report on the endorsement given for the Vocational School's program on small business managers and owners. The chamber had endorsed the program and Earl Palm and Richard Gerhardt acted as instructors.

Ohio University has asked the Chamber for similar support for a program they are co-sponsoring with the United States Small Business group. The board of directors gave their verbal support for the program.

Gerhardt was the first committee chairman to give his report. He asked the board for approval of seven items under industrial promotion and community appearance. His Area Development committee recommended to the board that it encourage industrial expansion and the settling of other industries in the Circleville area. He pointed out that the county unemployment rate is 7.2 per cent while the state average is 9.2 per cent. Another item which Gerhardt brought to the attention of the board was the request for the establishment of an Old Courthouse Circle Commission whose main objective was to restore the buildings in the original circle.

A lengthy discussion followed among the board of directors members concerning the real authority of any committee as a representative of the Chamber of Commerce. It was decided that any committee must first present its recommendations to the board before taking any action.

The board then, after defining the authority of the Area Development Committee, gave approval for that committee to proceed with the seven items on the list. Only one dissenting vote was cast on the final motion.

The Safety Committee, chaired by Asa Elsea, has met concerning the disaster program. Elsea advised the board that the community is still without any disaster plan.

The Legislative Committee has been very active lately. On March 25, State Senator Oakley Collins met with the county. Monday, the county commissioners met with the committee and discussed the local happenings. Bill Radcliff and Bill Harsha have agreed to talk with the committee in April along with the city mayor and the city council members concerning the city problems.

In other action, the board approved the Gabe Equipment Company as a member. Equitable Federal is also a new member.

Rosemary Linn reported that the Retail Merchants have the old car which they will raffle. Tickets will be on sale in the very near future and the auto will be placed in various locations downtown for public inspection.

Steve Stevenson advised the board that the manning of the airport which was a topic for discussion at the March meeting had been improved.

Clean-up week begins April 28.

PUCO Seeks Big Boost In Budget

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Faster decisions on rate increase requests was listed by the Public Utilities Commission Tuesday night as the top priority under its record-high budget request for the 1975-1977 biennium.

Commission Chairman Lewis Heckman, along with Commissioners Sally Bloomfield and David C. Sweet, took their request for $15.9 million to the human resources subsection of the House Finance Committee. The committee is one of three panels continuing to meet during the legislature's week-long spring vacation.

Heckman, named chairman only last week by Gov. James A. Rhodes, let senior commissioner Bloomfield field most of the committee's questions on the spending request. It compares to a current appropriation of $8.1 million, and represents a 95 per cent increase.

Mrs. Bloomfield said that the additional funds would permit the commission to hire more than 100 new employees to make faster, more thorough investigations of rate hike requests. It would cut the average time for decisions from about 22 months to nine months, she said.

Mrs. Bloomfield also said part of the increase would permit the commission to take over functions of Ohio's temporary Energy Emergency Commission, which goes out of existence next Jan. 1.

The legislature, when it created the energy commission last year, mandated that its functions would be

Glenn Sees Grim Future In Vietnam

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, said Tuesday he doubts if South Vietnam can reorganize its forces in time to repulse the current Communist offensive.

Glenn said South Vietnam's survival depends on whether it can reorganize its forces around Saigon and the Mekong Delta to stem the Communist drive south.

"I think it's doubtful they can get themselves organized to protect the rest of Vietnam," he said.

"There has been a complete breakdown in their forces," Glenn said. "Their troops are breaking and running."

He noted that some crack troops in the north panicked and fled, kicking their way through crowds of civilian refugees to grab spots on evacuation planes.

He called the situation "absolutely atrocious," but added that "I don't know how we could have prevented it."

Glenn said $260 million in aid is available to South Vietnam without further congressional action, but it is not the crucial factor.

"Unless they can get reorganized, further aid won't help them," he said.

"It's not been a lack of aid, it's a lack of their own will. In the final analysis, it will be up to them to determine what they want to do with their country."

transferred to the PUCO, Mrs. Bloomfield recalled.

Most of the $7.8 million in new money would come from utility assessments and transportation fees, the latter charged by the commission for regulation of the motor carriers and railroads. The assessments would go from $4.6 million to $9 million over the two-year budget period, and the fees from $3.5 million to $4.4 million.

The commission—which historically has operated with its own revenues—also is seeking a $2.5 million appropriation from the state's general fund, however. The money would be earmarked mostly for new energy-related responsibilities, Mrs. Bloomfield explained.

Rep. Sam Speck, R-95 New Concord, said he had questions about permitting the commission to receive general fund appropriations, saying he knew what usually happened "once the camel gets his nose into the tent."

Microwave Warning Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manufacturers of microwave ovens are being required by the government to affix permanent cautionary operating labels on the appliances to reduce the possibility of consumer injuries.

The Food and Drug Administration said Monday that permanent labels will be required on all microwave ovens manufactured after Oct. 3. Previously the FDA required that the instructions be contained in operating manuals, but the manuals often were lost after the ovens were purchased.

The new labels will read: "Precautions for safe use to avoid possible exposure to excessive microwave energy. Do not attempt to operate this oven with (a) object caught in the door (b) door that does not close properly (c) damaged door, hinge, latch or sealing surface."

A second label will be required advising that the oven should be serviced only by qualified personnel and that the service manual should be consulted for proper repairs.

Tornado Effects On Schools Eyed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A team of university professors says the worst effect of a tornado on a school building is a savage blast of wind caused by the funnel's rotation and forward speed.

The report was released Tuesday by the National Weather Service. It said the safest place in a school during a tornado is the basement. If there is no basement the safest place usually will be interior corridors on the lowest floor.

Among the professors conducting the research was Uwe F. Koehler of Ball State University.

Mental Health Chief Blasts Gilligan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new mental health director claims the highly-touted reforms of former Gov. John J. Gilligan were largely cosmetic, while the department overall has deteriorated to "grossly substandard levels."

Dr. Timothy B. Moritz, director of the Department of Mental Retardation, said while budgets were spent on equipment, buildings and custodial care workers, professional staff workers, including physicians and psychiatrists, were ignored.

He said professionals have left the department in droves, and the staffing level has "made a farce of the terms, 'hospital, mental health center and institutions.'"

"We are near the point of having to take the signs down which call our institutions 'hospitals,'" he said.

"The quantity and quality of medical and psychiatric staff in the state's mental hospitals and institutions...has deteriorated dramatically since 1970 to grossly substandard levels which jeopardize the lives of institution residents," Moritz said. "I was shocked by the conditions which I inherited."

Moritz told a Columbus news conference on Tuesday that he has asked the House Finance Committee to implement a revised pay schedule recommended by the Ohio Civil Service Commission.

He said the revised scale would raise the starting salary for state physicians from $15,300 to $22,838. He said the average physician in private practice makes $49,000 a year.

At present, he said, "recruitment is an exercise in futility. The salaries are so low you don't have a fighting chance."

Physicians and psychiatrists have abandoned the department, he said, leaving institutions woefully understaffed.

He said 16 mental hospitals and six institutions for the mentally retarded have no certified staff psychiatrists.

The number of staff physicians has declined 37 per cent since 1970, excluding private physicians under contract, he said. When medical assistants are included, he said, the state has lost 40.7 per cent of its civil service medical manpower since 1970.

He said five state institutions for the mentally retarded have no certified pediatrician; none of the three children's psychiatric hospitals have a certified child psychiatrist, and there are no neurologists or specialists in rehabilitation medicine anywhere in the department.

"The net result has been an accelerating deterioration of the treatment and habilitation capacity of state institutions," he said.

Court Denies Motions For Probation

Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer denied three motions for early release of prisoners under the provisions of the Shock Probation Statute.

Lloyd Lee Barnhart had applied for suspension of further execution of his three sentences under the statute and the court denied the motion on the grounds of Barnhart's record.

Judge Ammer ruled that due to the previous criminal activity of the prisoner dating back to 1959, he was not a likely candidate for shock probation.

Barnhart was sentenced to three concurrent terms of 4-25, 1-5 and 1-5 years on charges of breaking and entering, aggravated burglary and grand theft.

The court also denied a similar motion filed by Pearl Franklin Barnhart. Barnhart pleaded guilty to four charges of forgery, one count of breaking and entering and one count of grand theft.

He was subsequently sentenced to six concurrent terms of 2-5 years each. Ammer also cited his previous record as grounds for denying the motion for early release.

A third motion was overruled, filed by Michael Eugene Hunt. Hunt was sentenced Dec. 19, 1974 for breaking and entering and grand theft. He was sentenced to two concurrent terms of six months to five years each.

Two other individuals filed for shock probation and the court ordered post-sentence reports to be made before making a final decision on the motions.

General Telephone Elects Directors, Officers

MARION — Robert M. Wopat was re-elected president of General Telephone Co. of Ohio and Robert L. Giffin of Mountvale, N.J., was named vice president-controller at the company's annual board meeting Monday.

Giffin will succeed Robert A. Lindsay who has been elected vice president of General Telephone Co. of Florida. The changes are effective May 1.

Wopat will be serving his 11th term as president of General of Ohio. Other officers of the company also were re-elected at the meeting Monday.

Giffin has been budget director of telephone operations with General Telephone & Electronics Corp., Stamford, Conn., since 1969. General of Ohio and General of Florida are subsidiaries of GTE.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Giffin is a graduate of Muskingum College, New Concord. His oldest son, Thomas, currently is a student at Muskingum. He and his wife, Carolyn, have four other children. The family will soon move to Marion.

Giffin has held various positions with other GTE subsidiaries. He started his career with General of Pennsylvania

Workers Laid Off For Roof Repair

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Production line workers at the Owens-Corning Fiberglass plant here were laid off Tuesday as a section of the plant roof that collapsed last week is repaired. The layoffs affect about 100 employees.

The repair is expected to take about a month, company managers said.

The cause for the collapse of the section was undetermined.

ORDINANCE NO. 32-75
AN ORDINANCE SETTING THE COMPENSATION FOR A PROFESSIONALLY TRAINED DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SERVICE AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1: That any person appointed to fill the position of Director of Public Service for the City of Circleville, Ohio, who has received a degree in civil engineering from a fully accredited college or university shall be compensated at the rate of Fifteen Thousand, Three Hundred Dollars ($15,300.00) per year, beginning with the first day of January, 1975.

SECTION 2: That the Director of Public Service of the City of Circleville, Ohio, shall be paid in equal installments on the first and fifteenth day of each month.

SECTION 3: That Council declares this to be an emergency ordinance necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, such emergency arising out of the necessity to set the salary of the Director of Public Service without undue delay in order to correct a situation now deemed undesirable. Wherefore, this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

at Erie, Pa., 1953 as a junior accountant. After several accounting promotions there he was named methods administrator with GTE in 1962.

In 1964, Giffin became assistant controller with General of the Northwest, Everett, Wash. and in 1967, accounting director of General of Florida.

He is a member of the National Association of Accountants. He has served as an instructor for the management development and senior management development courses at GTE. In addition, he is a member of the Alumni and Parents councils of Muskingum College.

Lindsay has been controller for the company since 1970. Previous to that he was accounting director for General of the Northwest.

The Berkeley, Calif., native started his career in 1948 with Western California Telephone Co., now a part of GTE. He held various plant, engineering and accounting posts and was named chief accountant in 1954. He assumed additional duties as corporate secretary in 1959.

He is a graduate of San Jose College, San Jose, Calif. He and his wife, Jane, and four of the couple's eight children will move soon to the Tampa area.

Lindsay is a member of the American Institute of Corporate Controllers, Ohio Chamber of Commerce, Independent Telephone Pioneers Association, Columbus Chapter of Financial Executives Institute, business advisory committee of Marion Technical College, Knights of Columbus, Marion Country Club and board of the Marion Concert Association. He also is president of the Marion YMCA board.

Other General of Ohio officers re-elected were:

R. J. Dennis, vice president - engineering and construction; Robert C. Fletcher, vice president - personnel; A. W. Hughes, vice president - customer services; T. S. Lauver, secretary-treasurer; R. J. White, vice president - revenue requirements; G. T. Winn, vice president - public affairs and Betty J. Wilson, assistant treasurer.

The election of officers was conducted by the board of directors. The latter were re-elected at the company's annual shareholders meeting held here March 28.

Directors re-elected were:

Raymond H. Adkins of Dover; Herbert K. Ames of Bryan; Charles H. Campbell of Ashland; Frank C. Henry of Cleveland; Peter S. Mykranz of Columbus; Richard H. Peters of Toledo; James B. Pugh of Portsmouth; Fred W. Uhlman of Toledo; Harold F. Zeig of Columbus and Wopat.

3 Ohio Big Cities Report Large Increases In Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohio cities showed increases of more than 20 per cent in serious crimes in 1974, an FBI report revealed.

Columbus was highest, with an increase of 25.5 per cent over the 1973 total of 31,317 serious crimes, followed by Toledo with a 24 per cent increase and Cleveland with a 23 per cent rise.

The FBI's Uniform Crime Reports also listed increases for Dayton, 16.5 per cent; Akron, almost 16 per cent; Youngstown, 9.6 per cent; and Cincinnati and Canton, both slightly more than 6 per cent.

Only Parma, of the nine cities included in the report, showed a decrease—down from a total of 2,525 serious crimes in 1973 to 2,516 in 1974.

All together, the nine cities reported a total of 211,755 serious crimes in 1974—up slightly more than 18 per cent from the 1973 total of 179,010.

The national average for the comparable period rose 17 per cent, the largest increase in 14 years, the FBI report said.

The statistics show that in Akron, the murder rate went from 28 in 1973 to 48 in 1974, a 71 per cent jump, while the amount of burglaries rose from nearly 5,000 to slightly more than 6,000, a 22 per cent increase.

Canton had a 44 per cent increase in forcible rapes—49 in 1974 compared with 34 in the previous year—but its murder rate held steady and there were slight decreases in aggravated assaults and motor vehicle thefts.

Cincinnati dropped from 68 murders in 1973 to 67 in 1974, but showed increases in all other categories. The largest rise was in aggravated assaults, which soared to 64 per cent over the 1973 total of 733.

In Cleveland, robbery and burglary increased by more than a third and larceny-theft rose more than a fifth.

Columbus had a 23 per cent rise in forcible rape and a 33 per cent jump in aggravated assault.

Murder, robbery, aggravated assault and vehicle theft went down slightly in Dayton, but burglary went up from 6,006 in 1973 to 8,019 in 1974—an increase of 33 per cent.

Parma recorded increases in aggravated assaults, from 75 in 1973 to 97 in 1974, larceniesthefts, from 1,589 to 1,544, and motor vehicle thefts, from 257 to 274.

But it noted decreases in robbery, burglary and larceny-theft.

Toledo's murder rate was 55 in 1974, up 22 per cent from the 1973 total, and there were 18,501 larceniesthefts, a 30

No Way To Stop Vietnamese Reds?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. government experts are now saying privately that there is no way to stop the Communist offensive from rolling over all of South Vietnam.

They say the biggest questions are whether it will be days or weeks and whether it will come by military or political action.

President Ford, asked by a newsman in Bakersfield, Calif., about his reaction to events in Southeast Asia, declined to answer and broke into a fast trot some 100 yards to the ramp of his waiting airplane.

White House press Secretary Ron Nessen later said Ford feels the current debacle in South Vietnam was caused by Hanoi's violations of the Paris accords and the failure of Congress to grant his request for more aid, much of which would go to replace the millions of dollars of U.S. equipment lost by the South Vietnamese to Communist invaders.

Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger predicted Monday that the North Vietnamese will drive on Saigon within the next month or two. He said he expects the North Vietnamese to move as rapidly as they can before the South Vietnamese can stabilize their defenses in the wake of major setbacks in the central highlands and the northern part of the country.

There is a rather remote hope by some intelligence specialists that a temporary military equilibrium can be brought about if the South Vietnamese army can be regrouped quickly to defend Saigon and the delta region.

But these same officials concede that President Nguyen Van Thieu, who was never strong politically, has even less support now. They do not see how he can last.

The fast pace of developments has left officials here not only surprised but with plans that are outdated before they can be adopted.

For example, plans were drawn last Thursday and Friday for the United States to evacuate several hundred thousand persons from Da Nang. But fewer than 50,000 were removed by air and sea because the Communists per cent increase over 1973.

Youngstown reported increases in all categories in 1973 compared with 1974. The FBI figures noted 11 more murders, 100 more robberies, 183 more burglaries, 176 more larceniesthefts, and 149 more vehicle thefts.

moved virtually without opposition into the demoralized, panic-stricken city over the weekend.

Now plans have been drawn for the evacuation of 200,000 refugees, one-half of them from Qui Nhon, beginning Tuesday. But Communist forces have raced to near Qui Nhon before the operation even began.

American officials say the United States has a special moral commitment to evacuate those South Vietnamese who worked closely with the Americans and who would be endangered in a Communist takeover.

In addition there are Vietnamese children who are half American. The dependents of Vietnamese employees of Americans could also be in jeopardy.

Steel Inventory Slashes Seen

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An industry analyst predicts steel users will cut their inventory by 3.5 to 5.5 million tons this quarter, just as consumption in some steel markets should begin to increase.

"All in all, consumption should rise by two million tons in the second quarter, reducing the impact of the liquidation on the mills, says an Iron Age magazine expert.

"Construction activity should be rising with warm weather. Also coming up soon will be the busy season for canners," the magazine said. "And it's expected the auto industry will build 500,000 more cars in the second quarter."

General Telephone Elects Directors, Officers

MARION — Robert M. Wopat was re-elected president of General Telephone Co. of Ohio and Robert L. Giffin of Mountvale, N.J., was named vice president-controller at the company's annual board meeting Monday.

Giffin will succeed Robert A. Lindsay who has been elected vice president of General Telephone Co. of Florida. The changes are effective May 1.

Wopat will be serving his 11th term as president of General of Ohio. Other officers of the company also were re-elected at the meeting Monday.

Giffin has been budget director of telephone operations with General Telephone & Electronics Corp., Stamford, Conn., since 1969. General of Ohio and General of Florida are subsidiaries of GTE.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Giffin is a graduate of Muskingum College, New Concord. His oldest son, Thomas, currently is a student at Muskingum. He and his wife, Carolyn, have four other children. The family will soon move to Marion.

Giffin has held various positions with other GTE subsidiaries. He started his career with General of Pennsylvania at Erie, Pa., 1953 as a junior accountant. After several accounting promotions there he was named methods administrator with GTE in 1962.

In 1964, Giffin became assistant controller with General of the Northwest, Everett, Wash. and in 1967, accounting director of General of Florida.

He is a member of the National Association of Accountants. He has served as an instructor for the management development and senior management development courses at GTE. In addition, he is a member of the Alumni and Parents councils of Muskingum College.

Lindsay has been controller for the company since 1970. Previous to that he was accounting director for General of the Northwest.

The Berkeley, Calif., native started his career in 1948 with Western California Telephone Co., now a part of GTE. He held various plant, engineering and accounting posts and was named chief accountant in 1954. He assumed additional duties as corporate secretary in 1959.

He is a graduate of San Jose College, San Jose, Calif. He and his wife, Jane, and four of the couple's eight children will move soon to the Tampa area.

Lindsay is a member of the American Institute of Corporate Controllers, Ohio Chamber of Commerce, Independent Telephone Pioneers Association, Columbus Chapter of Financial Executives Institute, business advisory committee of Marion Technical College, Knights of Columbus, Marion Country Club and board of the Marion Concert Association. He also is president of the Marion YMCA board.

Other General of Ohio officers re-elected were:

R. J. Dennis, vice president - engineering and construction; Robert C. Fletcher, vice president - personnel; A. W. Hughes, vice president - customer services; T. S. Lauver, secretary-treasurer, R. J. White, vice president - revenue requirements; G. T. Winn, vice president - public affairs and Betty J. Wilson, assistant treasurer.

The election of officers was conducted by the board of directors. The latter were re-elected at the company's annual shareholders meeting held here March 28.

Directors re-elected were:

Raymond H. Adkins of Dover; Herbert K. Ames of Bryan; Charles H. Campbell of Ashland; Frank C. Henry of Cleveland; Peter S. Mykranz of Columbus; Richard H. Peters of Toledo; James B. Pugh of Portsmouth; Fred W. Uhlman of Toledo; Harold F. Zeig of Columbus and Wopat.

BEARLY AWARE—Bob Leslie, portrayed by actor Patrick Wayne, welcomes his friends, three orphaned bear cubs, to springtime after their long winter's nap in the root cellar. This scene is from the Walt Disney Production of the outdoor adventure drama, "The Bears and I". The family show opens the spring and summer season at the Starlight Drive-In on Stoutsville Pike, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

3 Ohio Big Cities Report Large Increases In Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohio cities showed increases of more than 20 per cent in serious crimes in 1974, an FBI report revealed.

Columbus was highest, with an increase of 25.5 per cent over the 1973 total of 31,317 serious crimes, followed by Toledo with a 24 per cent increase and Cleveland with a 23 per cent rise.

The FBI's Uniform Crime Reports also listed increases for Dayton, 16.5 per cent; Akron, almost 16 per cent; Youngstown, 9.6 per cent; and Cincinnati and Canton, both slightly more than 6 per cent.

Only Parma, of the nine cities included in the report, showed a decrease—down from a total of 2,525 serious crimes in 1973 to 2,516 in 1974.

All together, the nine cities reported a total of 211,755 serious crimes in 1974—up slightly more than 18 per cent from the 1973 total of 179,010.

The national average for the comparable period rose 17 per cent, the largest increase in 14 years, the FBI report said.

The statistics show that in Akron, the murder rate went from 28 in 1973 to 48 in 1974, a 71 per cent jump, while the amount of burglaries rose from nearly 5,000 to slightly more than 6,000, a 22 per cent increase.

Canton had a 44 per cent increase in forcible rapes—49 in 1974 compared with 34 in the previous year—but its murder rate held steady and there were slight decreases in aggravated assaults and motor vehicle thefts.

Cincinnati dropped from 68 murders in 1973 to 67 in 1974, but showed increases in all other categories. The largest rise was in aggravated assaults, which soared to 64 per cent over the 1973 total of 733.

In Cleveland, robbery and burglary increased by more than a third and larceny-theft rose more than a fifth.

Columbus had a 23 per cent rise in forcible rape and a 33 per cent jump in aggravated assault.

Murder, robbery, aggravated assault and vehicle theft went down slightly in Dayton, but burglary went up from 6,006 in 1973 to 8,019 in 1974—an increase of 33 per cent.

Parma recorded increases in aggravated assaults, from 75 in 1973 to 97 in 1974, larceniesthefts, from 1,589 to 1,544, and motor vehicle thefts, from 257 to 274.

But it noted decreases in robbery, burglary and larcenytheft.

Toledo's murder rate was 55 in 1974, up 22 per cent from the 1973 total, and there were 18,501 larceniesthefts, a 30

No Way To Stop Vietnamese Reds?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. government experts are now saying privately that there is no way to stop the Communist offensive from rolling over all of South Vietnam.

They say the biggest questions are whether it will be days or weeks and whether it will come by military or political action.

President Ford, asked by a newsman in Bakersfield, Calif., about his reaction to events in Southeast Asia, declined to answer and broke into a fast trot some 100 yards to the ramp of his waiting airplane.

White House press Secretary Ron Nessen later said Ford feels the current debate in South Vietnam was caused by Hanoi's violations of the Paris accords and the failure of Congress to grant his request for more aid, much of which would go to replace the millions of dollars of U.S. equipment lost by the South Vietnamese to Communist invaders.

Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger predicted Monday that the North Vietnamese will drive on Saigon within the next month or two. He said he expects the North Vietnamese to move as rapidly as they can before the South Vietnamese can stabilize their defenses in the wake of major setbacks in the central highlands and the northern part of the country.

There is a rather remote hope by some intelligence specialists that a temporary military equilibrium can be brought about if the South Vietnamese army can be regrouped quickly to defend Saigon and the delta region.

But these same officials concede that President Nguyen Van Thieu, who was never strong politically, has even less support now. They do not see how he can last.

The fast pace of developments has left officials here not only surprised but with plans that are outdated before they can be adopted.

For example, plans were drawn last Thursday and Friday for the United States to evacuate several hundred thousand persons from Da Nang. But fewer than 50,000 were removed by air and sea because the Communists per cent increase over 1973.

Youngstown reported increases in all categories in 1973 compared with 1974. The FBI figures noted 11 more murders, 100 more robberies, 183 more burglaries, 176 more larceniesthefts, and 149 more vehicle thefts.

moved virtually without opposition into the demoralized, panic-stricken city over the weekend.

Now plans have been drawn for the evacuation of 200,000 refugees, one-half of them from Qui Nhon, beginning Tuesday. But Communist forces have raced to near Qui Nhon before the operation even began.

American officials say the United States has a special moral commitment to evacuate those South Vietnamese who worked closely with the Americans and who would be endangered in a Communist takeover.

In addition there are Vietnamese children who are half American. The dependents of Vietnamese employees of Americans could also be in jeopardy.

Steel Inventory Slashes Seen

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An industry analyst predicts steel users will cut their inventory by 3.5 to 5.5 million tons this quarter, just as consumption in some steel markets should begin to increase.

"All in all, consumption should rise by two million tons in the second quarter, reducing the impact of the liquidation on the mills, says an Iron Age magazine expert.

"Construction activity should be rising with warm weather. Also coming up soon will be the busy season for canners," the magazine said. "And it's expected the auto industry will build 500,000 more cars in the second quarter."

Technopole

In framing decisions of government, the role of the statistician has increased tremendously in the last few decades. The entrance of experts onto the national scene has been so unobtrusive that few citizens realize how close to a computerized society we have come.

The epitome of fact-finding organizations probably is the Council of Economic Advisers which watches over a sophisticated set of national accounts strongly influencing the President's economic policies and actions. Created in 1946, the economic advisory group has spawned numerous imitators in many departments far removed from economics.

In the academic field an answer to the challenge has been the creation of a new breed of statistician commonly called "technopoles."

Cozily Uncornered

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON — It was cozy in the de-bugged Oval Office at the White House. The President's butler noiselessly brought coffee to Bill Hearst's team of reporters, and a glass of what looked like lemonade to the President.

But in the trees and gardens outside, and elsewhere in the area, winds howled angrily and man and beast were lashed by slanting rain.

It seemed like a proper contrast, another appearance in the eye of a hurricane by the unflappable friendly man who is the first American President never elected.

Beyond the White House grounds, all sorts of derbies were afoot.

South Vietnam and Cambodia, whose causes the President had supported as Congressman and Vice President, were going relentlessly down the drain. In the Middle East, his envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary, Henry Kissinger, had thrown in the towel and warned war might start soon in that bed of hate.

A loose nut of a nephew was about to kill his uncle, the President's friend, King Faisal. The Congress had scoffed at the President's request for last ditch aid for Saigon. It also had saddled his multi-billion dollar tax refund to the American people with more multi-billions he wasn't sure the country could afford. Besides, his golf game had fallen apart on the last three holes at Burning Tree the day before, and, worse, the Harris Poll had announced that morning that 60 per cent of the people questioned (1,536) took a dim view of the job he's doing.

But the man from Grand Rapids looked cool, was affable and as much "with it" as if he had just won a second term.

On two or three occasions, he asked that his answers be off the record. The veteran stenotypist's fingers immediately lifted from his spooky little machine; the reporter who brought along a tape recorder snapped it off. During such answers, the President sometimes would look at Press Secretary Ron Nessen in his open blueeyed way, as if either addressing him (rather than us) or tacitly requesting Ron to stop him if he was wandering from the prim confines of accepted policy. Then it would be "Go" again, and new questions were directed at him, new answers came forth as he relaxed in his chair under the portrait of George Washington, who could not tell a lie.

Yes, he said, he'll seek the nomination with the help of a non-White House group, a completely different approach to the disastrous process used by his predecessor.

No, he will not announce July 1. ("I don't think July 1 is any magic date.")

If he announced too soon, everything he tries to do as President after that announcement would be considered a political move.

Yes, once he is nominated ("If I got the nomination") he would run for re-election under the aegis of the Republican National Committee, not a CREEP-like body such as Nixon set up.

No, he didn't agree with the Harris Poll's finding that 83 per cent of the people have no confidence in his belief he can stem inflation and 80 per cent doubt he can keep the economy healthy. He is a complete optimist. We are bound for better times.

Yes, he agreed with the feeling in some Washington circles that if Israel had been "a bit more flexible" it would in the long run have been the best insurance for peace in the Middle East.

No, he will not personally order, or beseech Congress to order a U.S. air strike against the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces if they begin storming the gates of Saigon. "The law says I can't, (but) we'll consider any options we have within the law..."

Yes, he talks on the phone occasionally with his predecessor. Called him up to wish him a happy birthday January 9, but doesn't remember talking to him since.

No, he doesn't have any plans to get together with the man who, in effect, selected him as President, when he spends his Easter vacation in Palm Springs, Calif. Matter of fact, he added with the best grin the White House had had since Ike's, he may stay in Washington for the holiday, even though he has rented a house within brassie distance of half a dozen desert golf oases.

Appointments Secretary Terry O'Donnell, son of the President's late great friend Gen. Rosy O'Donnell, stuck his boyish head in the door to announce quietly that the next bunch was waiting to see the President, whose day had begun ten hours before with a breakfast for Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott, the leaders.

The President said, "Give us five more minutes." Then he led us to the door of the cheerful, flower decorated nerve center of the free world.

"Thanks for dropping by, Bill," he said to Hearst, as if we had just done him a big favor.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight years ago McGeorge Bundy, then the new president of the Ford Foundation, attracted considerable comment when he chided colleges and universities on their poor performance in the financial markets.

If a return of just 1 per cent more could be obtained on total endowments of $2 billion, he said, it would mean a net of $120 million added to the funds available to financially pressed institutions.

This was a time, you may recall, when the cult of performance was reaching its peak. Some mutual funds were providing returns in excess of 50 per cent, and in at least one instance, more than 100 per cent in a year.

A new era was said to have arrived. It was the space age of stocks, and the astronauts were the self-proclaimed geniuses of money managing, the young aggressive fearless portfolio managers.

They scored tradition and history. "Why invest for dividends?" they asked, implying that to do so wasn't suitable even for the old family trusts of Boston and Philadelphia. "Invest for fabulous capital gains instead!"

McGeorge Bundy's life evolved around history and tradition: Born in Boston, Harvard student and professor, special assistant to the president of the United States. He joined the crowd.

A document he issued, "Public Issues, Philanthropic Foundations and Straight Talk," was studied by institutions everywhere, and some of the richest and most conservative of them seemingly took his advice to heart.

Now, in an interview with the New York Times, Bundy told of plans to cut the Ford Foundation staff in half by laying off 300 professional and other employees by Sept. 28, 1978.

In addition, the nation's largest foundation will be forced to cut its philanthropic programs by 50 per cent. And it might even rent out space in its architecturally unconventional headquarters here.

The reason for the moves: portfolio losses.

The foundation's annual report explained it had been hit with "extraordinarily bad financial weather." In the year ended last Sept. 30 its assets shrank 45 per cent to $1.699 billion, but have since improved.

Hospitals Get Cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has distributed $317,323 to 98 Ohio hospitals as the last payment in a multi-million dollar antitrust settlement with five major drug companies.

Brown said Monday that about $205,000 went to 62 publicly-supported hospitals. Cincinnati General Hospital received $37,351, the largest share.

The remaining $112,000 went to 36 state hospitals and institutions, he said.

The money is part of a $3.7 million settlement with Charles Pfizer and Co., Inc.; American Cyanamid; Bristol-Myers; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., and Upjohn Pharmaceutical Co.

The five companies were accused of conspiring from 1953 to 1966 to fix the price of tetracycline, an antibiotic.

Of the settlement, $1.65 million has gone to hospitals, about $170,000 to individuals and $2 million for health programs in the state.

Western Samoa became an independent nation, Jan. 1, 1962. It comprises four inhabited islands of a group in the South Pacific about 2,600 miles southwest of Hawaii.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, April 2, the 92nd day of 1975. There are 273 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1917, President Woodrow Wilson asked Congress to declare war on Germany, saying the world must be made safe for democracy.

On this date—

In 1882, the outlaw, Jesse James, was shot and killed by a member of his gang in St. Joseph, Mo.

In 1932, Charles Lindbergh turned over $50,000 dollars to an unidentified man in a Bronx, New York, cemetery as ransom for his kidnapped son.

In 1944, Soviet forces entered Romania during World War II.

In 1947, the United Nations assigned the United States as a trustee of Pacific islands formerly held by Japan under mandate.

Ten years ago: Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain and French President Charles de Gaulle agreed at a Paris meeting "that some sort of basis must be found for a peaceful settlement in Vietnam."

Five years ago: Japanese students who had hijacked an airliner released 103 passengers at the airport at Seoul in South Korea and accepted the Japanese Vice Minister of Transportation as a hostage for a flight to North Korea.

One year ago: President George Pompidou of France died in Paris at the age of 62.

Today's birthdays: Actor Alec Guinness is 61. Television actor and producer Jack Webb is 55.

Thought for today: Never trust a man who speaks well of everybody — John Churton Collins, English literary critic, 1848-1908.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My diet-fad friend talks about potassium in food and how its absence can cause fatigue and body weakness. Is this true?

Miss D. U., Neb.

Dear Miss U.:

It is difficult to keep up with the new health fads that are created month after month.

Every new creation quickly attracts its own group of enthusiasts who then embark on the blazing trail of converting friends.

Potassium is, indeed, an important chemical in the blood. Along with chlorides, calcium, sodium, phosphorous, iron and sugar, to name a few, a level of balance must be maintained for good health.

One does not "guess" at potassium or other chemical deficiencies. A blood test can, within a few days, show the total spectrum of blood ingredients. If there is a deficiency of a particular substance, it can be replaced by special diet and drugs.

It is a large, completely sealed room in which oxygen is used under great pressure. Patients with gangrene, with carbon monoxide poisoning, and with certain lung conditions have been kept alive by hyperbaric treatments. It is even possible to perform special types of surgery in hyperbaric chambers. Not all hospitals have these complex rooms. The U.S. Air Force has been very helpful in transporting patients to areas where such chambers are available.

I had a normal pregnancy that lasted exactly nine months. But when the baby was born it was called a "premature" baby. How is this possible?

Mrs. V. L., Ga.

Dear Mrs. L.:

Despite the fact that there is a normal length of pregnancy, a child with a birth weight of less than five pounds is technically considered a "premature" infant.

With such a low birth weight, it may be important to keep an infant in a hospital for a longer period of time to protect it against infection and to give it special nourishment. The extra days are a good investment in the health of the infant.

What is a "hyperbaric chamber"? My uncle was put in one and they say it saved his life.

Miss R. R., Calif.

Dear Miss R.:

Politicians make a great production about the necessity of basing decisions on facts. But they shy away from the technopole who claims that with sufficient data he can predict the exact results of any given decision or action. Rightly so.

George Orwell's 1984 is approaching rapidly enough without a boost from the technopole.

A loose nut of a nephew was about to kill his uncle, the President's friend, King Faisal. The Congress had scoffed at the President's request for last ditch aid for Saigon. It also had saddled his multi-billion dollar tax refund to the American people with more multi-billions he wasn't sure the country could afford. Besides, his golf game had fallen apart on the last three holes at Burning Tree the day before, and, worse, the Harris Poll had announced that morning that 60 per cent of the people questioned (1,536) took a dim view of the job he's doing.

But the man from Grand Rapids looked cool, was affable and as much "with it" as if he had just won a second term.

On two or three occasions, he asked that his answers be off the record. The veteran stenotypist's fingers immediately lifted from his spooky little machine; the reporter who brought along a tape recorder snapped it off. During such answers, the President sometimes would look at Press Secretary Ron Nessen in his open blue-eyed way, as if either addressing him (rather than us) or tacitly requesting Ron to stop him if he was wandering from the prim confines of accepted policy. Then it would be "Go" again, and new questions were directed at him, new answers came forth as he relaxed in his chair under the portrait of George Washington, who could not tell a lie.

Yes, he said, he'll seek the nomination with the help of a non-White House group, a completely different approach to the disastrous process used by his predecessor.

No, he will not announce July 1. ("I don't think July 1 is any magic date.")

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight years ago McGeorge Bundy, then the new president of the Ford Foundation, attracted considerable comment when he chided colleges and universities on their poor performance in the financial markets.

If a return of just 1 per cent more could be obtained on total endowments of $2 billion, he said, it would mean a net of $120 million added to the funds available to financially pressed institutions.

This was a time, you may recall, when the cult of performance was reaching its peak. Some mutual funds were providing returns in excess of 50 per cent, and in at least one instance, more than 100 per cent in a year.

A new era was said to have arrived. It was the space age of stocks, and the astronauts were the self-proclaimed geniuses of money managing, the young aggressive fearless portfolio managers.

They scored tradition and history. "Why invest for dividends?" they asked, implying that to do so wasn't suitable even for the old family trusts of Boston and Philadelphia. "Invest for fabulous capital gains instead!"

McGeorge Bundy's life evolved

around history and tradition: Born in Boston, Harvard student and professor, special assistant to the president of the United States. He joined the crowd.

A document he issued, "Public Issues, Philanthropic Foundations and Straight Talk," was studied by institutions everywhere, and some of the richest and most conservative of them seemingly took his advice to heart.

Now, in an interview with the New York Times, Bundy told of plans to cut the Ford Foundation staff in half by laying off 300 professional and other employees by Sept. 28, 1978.

In addition, the nation's largest foundation will be forced to cut its philanthropic programs by 50 per cent. And it might even rent out space in its architecturally unconventional headquarters here.

The reason for the moves: portfolio losses.

The foundation's annual report explained it had been hit with "extraordinarily bad financial weather." In the year ended last Sept. 30 its assets shrank 45 per cent to $1.699 billion, but have since improved.

Hospitals Get Cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has distributed $317,323 to 98 Ohio hospitals as the last payment in a multi-million dollar antitrust settlement with five major drug companies.

Brown said Monday that about $205,000 went to 62 publicly-supported hospitals. Cincinnati General Hospital received $37,351, the largest share.

The remaining $112,000 went to 36 state hospitals and institutions, he said.

The money is part of a $3.7 million settlement with Charles Pfizer and Co., Inc.; American Cyanamid; Bristol-Myers; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., and Upjohn Pharmaceutical Co.

The five companies were accused of conspiring from 1953 to 1966 to fix the price of tetracycline, an antibiotic.

Of the settlement, $1.65 million has gone to hospitals, about $170,000 to individuals and $2 million for health programs in the state.

Western Samoa became an independent nation, Jan. 1, 1962. It comprises four inhabited islands of a group in the South Pacific about 2,600 miles southwest of Hawaii.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, April 2, the 92nd day of 1975. There are 273 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1917, President Woodrow Wilson asked Congress to declare war on Germany, saying the world must be made safe for democracy.

On this date—

In 1882, the outlaw, Jesse James, was shot and killed by a member of his gang in St. Joseph, Mo.

In 1932, Charles Lindbergh turned over $50,000 dollars to an unidentified man in a Bronx, New York, cemetery as ransom for his kidnapped son.

In 1944, Soviet forces entered Romania during World War II.

In 1947, the United Nations assigned the United States as a trustee of Pacific islands formerly held by Japan under mandate.

Ten years ago: Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain and French President Charles de Gaulle agreed at a Paris meeting "that some sort of basis must be found for a peaceful settlement in Vietnam."

Five years ago: Japanese students who had hijacked an airliner released 103 passengers at the airport at Seoul in South Korea and accepted the Japanese Vice Minister of Transportation as a hostage for a flight to North Korea.

One year ago: President George Pompidou of France died in Paris at the age of 62.

Today's birthdays: Actor Alec Guinness is 61. Television actor and producer Jack Webb is 55.

Thought for today: Never trust a man who speaks well of everybody — John Churton Collins, English literary critic, 1848-1908.

The Army Engineers Corp asked Congress to appropriate $1 million to start construction of the Paint Creek Reservoir in Ohio as part of the Appalachia development program.

Total estimated cost of the Paint Creek project was $23.8 million. The creek, in Ross and Highland counties, is a tributary of the Scioto River. The dam site is 36.8 miles above the mouth of the creek.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, veteran Garden Page editor for The Herald, launched her first edition on April 1. Feature stories and information of interest to "the green thumb set" would be carried in the series. The page was published weekly during the growing season.

The first Elementary Schools Music Festival in several years was presented by nearly 700 Circleville grade school children in the high school gym.

Recognition for services to the community was the highlight of a special program conducted by the Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross. Adult Volunteer pins, Volunteer caps and various certificates and awards were presented. Robert M. Johnson, chapter chairman, presided during the event at the First Methodist Church.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My diet-fad friend talks about potassium in food and how its absence can cause fatigue and body weakness. Is this true?

Miss D. U., Neb.

Dear Miss U.:

It is difficult to keep up with the new health fads that are created month after month.

Every new creation quickly attracts its own group of enthusiasts who then embark on the blazing trail of converting friends.

Potassium is, indeed, an important chemical in the blood. Along with chlorides, calcium, sodium, phosphorus, iron and sugar, to name a few, a level of balance must be maintained for good health.

One does not "guess" at potassium or other chemical deficiencies. A blood test can, within a few days, show the total spectrum of blood ingredients. If there is a deficiency of a particular substance, it can be replaced by special diet and drugs.

What is a "hyperbaric chamber"? My uncle was put in one and they say it saved his life.

Miss R. R., Calif.

Dear Miss R.:

Love Of Boats

By JIM BISHOP

Men who own seagoing boats are conscious suckers. They know that buying one is a matter of abstract dollars carried to the third power. The reason a boat is called "she" is because boats are akin to kept women: The original price may not sink you, but the upkeep will.

Joey Bishop bought a beautiful yacht and thought he could save money my keeping it tied to a dock. "I've got the cost down to $20 a week," he says. Jack Paar, a Dogger Bank type, wouldn't go for more than a 30-footer. I advised him and Miriam that they would have more fun on a 45-footer, but the king of the nervousness said it would be too big for him and Miriam to handle.

Jim Knight, a newspaper publisher, has the right idea. He and Mrs. Knight go to sea in a yacht, trailed by a sports fisherman boat. When the game fish gather, they transfer from yacht to fishing boat and back again. Don't tell this old sailor that this isn't living.

Over a span of years, I have had five boats. I used to sail from Jersey to Fire Island inlet, fishing for fighting bluefish. Within 10 years, I learned a lesson: The more complex the boat, the more things can go wrong.

The difference between a rowboat with a pair of oars and a yacht is the difference between flying a kite and flying to the moon. Jack Sullivan, Marine Commissioner of New Jersey, had a good boat at Point Pleasant. He was smart. He hired a captain with a bad memory — he forgot to repair the ship-to-shore phone and sailed to sea without putting fuel in the boat.

At San Diego, I saw a well-charged millionaire come in slowly from Point Loma, his frightened wife on the bow with a shore line in her hands and, as he approached the dock, he made a slight error. He couldn't remember reverse engines from forward, so the steel yacht went right through a wooden pier, with his wife shrieking in flying lumber.

A couple of vandals sunk my Hatteras, the "Kelly," at the dock a few years ago. I gave up boating. Then the impossible happened.

Marie and Walter Lehmann Jr. bought a 38-foot Egg Harbor, sailed it in Florida waters, and left it at my dock. Boat owners do not lend boats. They said, "Help yourself. We'll pick it up in May."

This craft has everything. It's a big, teak-trimmed fiberglass craft with living room, rug, FM radio, com-

It is a large, completely sealed room in which oxygen is used under great pressure. Patients with gangrene, with carbon monoxide poisoning, and with certain lung conditions have been kept alive by hyperbaric treatments. It is even possible to perform special types of surgery in hyperbaric chambers. Not all hospitals have these complex rooms. The U.S. Air Force has been very helpful in transporting patients to areas where such chambers are available.

I had a normal pregnancy that lasted exactly nine months. But when the baby was born it was called a "premature" baby. How is this possible?

Mrs. V. L., Ga.

Dear Mrs. L.:

Despite the fact that there is a normal length of pregnancy, a child with a birth weight of less than five pounds is technically considered a "premature" infant.

With such a low birth weight, it may be important to keep an infant in a hospital for a longer period of time to protect it against infection and to give it special nourishment. The extra days are a good investment in the health of the infant.

fortable bunks for six, a flying bridge, and twin Cummins diesels. It has a 12-volt electrical switchboard which would defy the genius of Steinmetz.

If, by mistake, the skipper hits the wrong button, buzzers drill through his ears. Practicing slowly through enclosed waters, the "Sunnyside Up" and I began to learn a few things about each other. Her engines will turn up 3,000 RPMs, but a setting of 2,700 will bring the hull on top and she will cast the waves aside in veils of foam and do 14-15 knots for 25 hours without exhausting the fuel tanks.

We wash her down more than we run her because it isn't our baby. Kelly and I promised ourselves that we would wait until after Karen's wedding, and then take her to the Bahamas for big game fishing and a 14th honeymoon. Of the three, I know that one of us is ready.

If I develop the nerve, we may run her to Bimini for Gulf Stream fishing, then down to Key West to meet some friends and troll wahoo. These run 24 to 50 lbs. and can outspeed a Navy destroyer. Sometimes, when they hit the bait, you feel that the back of the boat is going to fall off.

One more thing: When you speak of boats, there is a lot of difference between "pretty" and "seaworthy." Some of the most gorgeous boats I've seen rock like a drunk in a phone booth if you spit over the side. Others, fat and slow, with dep V-bows, will take to a heavy running sea as though it is the start of a great love affair.

Louis Prima once bought a 55-foot Constellation in New York. When he got aboard, he asked me, "Which way is the ocean?" He was going to sail from New York to New Orleans. Two days later, the Navy reported a white yacht halfway between their battleships and the targets off Norfolk. They towed Prima in.

Mrs. Bishop and I have a good working relationship on a boat. I stand on the flying bridge as Captain Bligh. She is on the main deck as Mrs. Christian. When I blast the big twin horns, she turns to one of our girls and says, "Go up and see what Captain Hornblower wants."

Expensive? The late J.P. Morgan was asked how much he paid for his big, black ocean-going Corsair. "If you must ask price," he said sagely, "don't every buy a boat." ...

PRJVS Adult Classes Finish Winter Term

FLOWERS, FLOWERS—Luther Mathis, instructor of the adult Floral Arrangement class at the Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center, gives some flower arranging tips to Martha Mershon, Route 1. Mathis is the owner of Elliott-Mathis Flowers, Chillicothe.

The Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center is in the final weeks of the winter term for the adult evening classes. Over 350 adults have attended classes this session.

At the completion of the courses, each adult who has been in attendance for 80 per cent of the classes, will receive a certificate of achievement.

Thus far, over 900 adults have taken advantage of the various services and classes offered through the adult education program at the vocational center.

Instructors for the adult courses are either individuals who are also employed for the high school program or individuals from the community. All have had extensive experience in business and industry, several with over 20 years of experience.

Ideas for courses are always welcome from individuals and businesses in the community. Several of the courses being offered are a result of such suggestions.

Classes are open to any individual who is at least 16 years old and not presently enrolled in a high school program. Previous educational experiences do not affect eligibility for attendance in adult education classes.

Registration for the spring term is now taking place. More information can be obtained by contacting the school.

Orientation Held For New Member Of Delta Kappa Gamma

Mrs. Robert Shaeffer was welcomed as a new member of Beta Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society during its recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Dick Tootle, Route 2.

Mrs. Robert Scranton, president, conducted a short business meeting. She reminded members to send reservation for the Alpha Delta State Convention to be held in Cleveland, May 3rd-5th. A report was given concerning plans for the bicentennial project. Mrs. Charles Schieber, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. Judd Dresbach, Mrs. Arthur Beatty and Mrs. Scranton will serve on the committee from the society to the Bicentennial Committee.

For the orientation of Mrs. Shaeffer, the membership committee presented a skit telling what Delta Kappa Gamma stands for and what a new member can anticipate as an active worker. Taking part in the skit were Mrs. Dick Tootle, Mrs. James B. Scott, Mrs. Van Meter Hulse, Mrs. George McGhee and Mrs. Joseph Peters.

Hostesses for the meeting were Miss Amy Miga and Mrs. Arthur Beatty. Other members present were Mrs. Leland Dunkel, Mrs. Fred Engle, Mrs. James Hartley, Miss Betty Melton, Mrs. Lawrence Miga, Mrs. Ben Nothstine, Mrs. Richard Parlee, Mrs. E. E. Porter, Mrs. Donald Price, Miss Patricia Strous, Mrs. Lloyd Gallagher, Miss Helen Mettler and Mrs. Richard Koch.

Ashville League Seeking Members

Ashville Suburban Child Study League, a member of Ohio Child Conservation League, is inviting women interested in children to join the league. The state organization consists of study groups such as the Ashville League, that meets once a month to study a program outlined by OCCL.

Special meetings are held for mental, moral, physical and religious development of children and families. Friendship meetings are also held including philanthropic projects and a special meeting to sustain husbands' interest.

The Ashville league has heard speakers from Harrison Twp. Emergency Squad, SS Hope, Pickaway County Extension office, plus seeing a demonstration on candy and cake decorating, viewing slides of the Holy Land shown by the Rev. John Currens and an interesting meeting regarding wills with Harry Margulis as speaker.

Club members will take their children to the Columbus Zoo in June. They entertained their husbands recently with a Valentine Party. OCCL is a non-religious, non-sectarian, non-partisan and non-profit organization.

The next meeting will be Guest Night, 7:30 p.m., April 8th, in the home of Mrs. Becky Zielinski, Route 1, Ashville. Mrs. Robert Remy, district president for the Southeast District, will be guest speaker. She will explain the purpose of OCCL, what it is concerned with and what it can do for all mothers.

For further information and if interested in attending the next meeting contact Mrs. Becky Zielinski at 983-3733 or Mrs. Kathy Neal at 983-2859.

'Garden Statuary' Garden Club Program

Pickaway County Garden Club will meet 7:30 p.m., April 8th, at the home of Mrs. Sidney Ayers, 356 Juhl Road. Mrs. Roy Huffer is program chairman with Mrs. Darrell Hatfield using as her topic for the evening "Garden Statuary."

For a plant exchange members are to bring a perennial or house plant slip or division, packaged in plastic and labeled as to species and-or name of plant.

Mrs. Arthur McCoard is hostess chairman with Mrs. Ayers as co-chairman. Assisting will be Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. I. Smith Hulse and Mrs. Robert Steele and Mrs. Theodore Huston.

HEARTY DINNER

Barbecue beef, noodles, green beans, salad, bread tray, frosted chocolate cake.

Barbecue Beef

A thrifty lean cut of beef goes a long way.

4-pound bottom round beef roast
1 tablespoon salad oil
1½ cups or a 14-ounce bottle catchup
¾ cup water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 whole cloves
2 whole allspice
1 bay leaf
Chili powder to taste

Trim excess fat from beef. In a large heavy ovenproof saucepot or casserole heat oil; add beef and brown on all sides. Remove beef and pour off fat. Return beef to saucepot and add remaining ingredients. Cover tightly and bake in a 325-degree oven until tender — 2½ to 3 hours; to test doneness cut a small slice from beef because it will not respond to the usual fork test. Chill beef and sauce separately. Remove hardened fat from sauce; remove spices. Heat sauce, adding chili powder to taste; slice beef, or as much of it as will be needed, and heat in sauce. Leftover beef not added to the sauce makes delicious sandwiches.

Company Dinner

Spicy beef curry, rice, yogurt bananas, tossed green salad, nut pastries, beverage.

Yogurt Bananas

Authentic East Indian, and delightfully cooling when served with a hot curry.

8-ounce container unflavored yogurt
Pinch of salt
½ teaspoon white pepper
1½ teaspoons sugar
Large ripe banana
Stir together the yogurt, salt, pepper and sugar; chill. Just before serving, peel the banana and slice very thin; fold into yogurt mixture. Turn into a small attractive serving bowl and serve at once as a curry accompaniment.

Morning Coffee

Deviled cheese sandwiches, coffee.
Deviled Cheese Sandwiches
3-ounce can deviled ham
1 cup grated (medium-fine) extra-sharp cheddar cheese
3 tablespoons chili sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
12 thin slices bread
Thoroughly mix together the ham, cheese, chili sauce and Worcestershire sauce; spread over 6 slices of the bread; top with remaining bread. Toast under broiler turning to brown on both sides. Cut each sandwich in half. Serve at once. Makes 6 sandwiches.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Perfect Way To Ruin Marriage

DEAR ABBY: Paul (not his real name) and I have been married for 22 years, and I must say he has been an ideal husband and father. He is loving, sober, generous, and considerate.

About a year ago, Paul started going out every Wednesday night "with the boys"—or so he says. He never mentions any of the "boys" by name, and I know of no one in our circle of friends who goes with him.

My problem is that Paul refuses to say where he goes and with whom.

We can never make any plans for Wednesday night, because that is Paul's night out.

American Legion Post 618 Holds Annual Banquet

American Legion Post 618 of Williamsport held its annual banquet recently at Pickaway Arms in Circleville. As guests arrived the ladies were given a carnation corsage. Dinner was served following a prayer by Harry A. Keller Jr.

Commander Lonzie F. Rigsby, introduced guests, Tony Mosley and Vincent Redman, the post's 1974 representatives to Buckeye Boys' State. Both boys talked of their experiences there and expressed appreciation to members for the opportunity to attend and learn of governmental procedures.

A drawing was held with Terri Monet, a guest of Vincent Redman, drawing the name of Mrs. Curtis Payne who was presented a floral centerpiece.

Present were: Wilson Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Keller Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Aulton Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wolford, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Straley, Tony Mosley, Vincent Redman, Terri Monet, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schein and Commander and Mrs. Lonzie Rigsby.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. George Sowers, and Earl Lutz of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Sowers and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Stone, Arnold Sowers and Mrs. E. H. Sowers, spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Campbell and family at Choctaw Lake, London.

Beth Ann Young of Amanda and Roxan Karr of Circleville, spent the Easter vacation with Miss Young's grandmother, Mrs. McClelland Clark, 410 Faye Ave.

Saturday evening guests of Mrs. Clark were Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery Swisher, and Jennifer, Amanda, and Mrs. Clarence England, Circleville. Ice cream and cake were served observing Mrs. England's birthday.

Abby, this not knowing where he goes is slowly driving me to distraction. My demands that he tell me, or to cease going, have gotten me nowhere.

I am seriously considering hiring a private detective to follow him, but wonder what harm it could do to our marriage if Paul is innocent of any wrong-doing, and learns that I've had him followed.

What is your advice?

DOUBTING DODO

DEAR DOUBTING: Grow up. You don't have to know where your husband is every minute of his life. Isn't an adult man (or woman) entitled to some real personal freedom without being held accountable for his time 24 hours a day? And wouldn't the hiring of a private detective be the ultimate assault on that freedom, and an insult as well?

If you want to ruin your ideal marriage, just continue to "demand" that your otherwise perfect husband give you an hourly accounting of his time. Or have him followed.

DEAR ABBY:

The saying, "live and let live" is a tolerant point of view. But Abby, Live and HELP live is exactly what you do.

Your wisdom, wit and humor is a blessed inspiration. For 19 years of pleasure, My sincere appreciation!

DEAR ABBY: My father is 59, and a retired coal miner on disability.

He bought U.S. Savings Bonds years ago through the payroll office, and kept them all at home. Our house burned down 25 years ago, and all the bonds were destroyed. Dad never had copies of the bond numbers.

Is there any way he can trace these numbers? Everyone we talked to days we should forget it.

MRS. P.

DEAR MRS. P.: Don't forget it. Your father should contact his local bank, or the nearest Federal Reserve Bank, and request Form PD 1048.

He should then contact his former employer to help in filling out this form, as sometimes the payroll offices keep records of the serial numbers and dates. Your father should fill out the form in duplicate, keep one copy for himself and send the other to the Bureau of Public Debt (the address is on the form).

It may take a while, but eventually your father will get his bonds.

Orientation Held For New Member Of Delta Kappa Gamma

Mrs. Robert Shaeffer was welcomed as a new member of Beta Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society during its recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Dick Tootle, Route 2.

Mrs. Robert Scranton, president, conducted a short business meeting. She reminded members to send reservation for the Alpha Delta State Convention to be held in Cleveland, May 3rd-5th. A report was given concerning plans for the bicentennial project. Mrs. Charles Schieber, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. Judd Dresbach, Mrs. Arthur Beatty and Mrs. Scranton will serve on the committee from the society to the Bicentennial Committee.

For the orientation of Mrs. Shaeffer, the membership committee presented a skit telling what Delta Kappa Gamma stands for and what a new member can anticipate as an active worker. The next meeting will be April 8 at 7 a.m. at the Pickaway Arms.

Lottery Winner Fined And Jailed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A winner of $300,000 in the Ohio Lottery's Buckeye 300 drawing, Cassius C. Yoakum, was fined $100 Monday and sentenced to three days in jail after being found guilty of driving while intoxicated and being left of the centerline the night he won the money.

Yoakum was arrested shortly after midnight Feb. 14 by Columbus police. During his trial, Yoakum told a jury in Franklin County Municipal Court he drank a few beers at three taverns while celebrating with friends.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
April showers are scheduled for southern Ohio tonight, while in the north the rain may be mixed with, or change to snow.

A low pressure located over northeastern Texas brought the weather to the area. By Thursday, the low is forecast to be moving off the New Jersey coast, followed by colder weather in Ohio.

Last night's temperatures ranged from 27 at Youngstown to the low 40s in Cincinnati. Afternoon readings will be in the upper 30s and 40s in the north to the low 50s and low 60s farther south with precipitation diminishing from the west and south.

Cooler weather is expected Friday with moderate temperatures Saturday.

Municipal Court News

Clarence E. Spradlin, 52, Ashville, disorderly conduct, $15 and costs.
Michael Glen Dille, 20, 410 John St., seven counts of criminal mischief, $50 and costs and 10 days in jail on each charge.

Banks May Get More Lottery Cash

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Banks may receive more money for handling lottery tickets.

Commissioners are considering raising the amount banks receive for handling tickets from one per cent to 1.25 per cent, or about $1.3 million annually, on gross sales of about $100 million.

Lottery information director James Skelly said the change was discussed Monday at a commissioners' meeting.

Moundbuilders Hear Lawhorn

KIWANIS SPEAKER—John Lawhorn, left, coach of the Circleville Tiger basketball team, was the guest speaker at the Tuesday morning meeting of the Kiwanis Moundbuilders. With him are Don Brandon, George Huskey, and Dale Minor.

The Kiwanis Club of Circleville - Moundbuilders met at the Pickaway Arms 7 a.m. Tuesday.

President John Johnson announced that the Kiwanis District meeting will be held April 8 at Lithopolis; the monthly board meeting will be held 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Don Brandon, 593 Sycamore Rd.; and tickets for Charter Night April 22 can be purchased for $6 each from Steve McGinnis.

John Lawhorn, coach of the Circleville basketball team, was the guest speaker. He discussed the past season stressing self-discipline, good fundamentals, and conditioning programs. He also discussed the basketball program from the elementary level to high school at Circleville.

Visiting Kiwanians were Charles Reid, Ray Cundiff, Jim Price, Ed Farynowski, Keith Wagner, Sam McIlvaine, Beryl Wiggins, Dick Davis, and Marty Sharrett.

The next meeting will be April 8 at 7 a.m. at the Pickaway Arms.

Lottery Winner Fined And Jailed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A winner of $300,000 in the Ohio Lottery's Buckeye 300 drawing, Cassius C. Yoakum, was fined $100 Monday and sentenced to three days in jail after being found guilty of driving while intoxicated and being left of the centerline the night he won the money.

Yoakum was arrested shortly after midnight Feb. 14 by Columbus police. During his trial, Yoakum told a jury in Franklin County Municipal Court he drank a few beers at three taverns while celebrating with friends.

NOW AT SECOND NATIONAL BANK SAFE SIX YEAR

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT

AT

7.5% = 7.9%

ANNUAL INTEREST

ANNUAL YIELD

PACESETTER CERTIFICATES PAY THE HIGHEST BANK YIELD IN TOWN!

Invest as little as $1,000.00 and earn 7.9% annually from daily compounding of a 7.5% annual rate.

You'll receive an annual check with the highest bank yield in town.

Similar but shorter term investment plans are available. For instance, our 4 or 5 year Pacesetter Certificate pays an interest rate of 7.25% yielding 7.62% annually. High yielding Pacesetter Certificates are also available in 1 to 3 year maturities.

REGULAR CERTIFICATES MAY PAY AN INTEREST CHECK AS OFTEN AS ONCE A MONTH.

Earn a guaranteed steady income and 7.5% annually with $1,000.00 or more.

You can arrange to receive your interest payment every month, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. It can be sent to you by check or you can have it deposited directly into a Second National Savings or Checking account.

Regular Certificates are also available for shorter periods. From 3 months to 6 years. For example our 4 year certificate pays annual interest of 7.25%.

SECOND NATIONAL CERTIFICATES ARE BANK-SAFE AND GUARANTEED IN FULL AT MATURITY.

Each Second National investment plan is guaranteed in full at maturity. And you know exactly how much interest you're going to earn.

On plans with a specified deposit time, Federal Law requires a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal.

Every depositor is insured up to $40,000.00 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. This protection can be multiplied by a combination of individual and joint accounts.

No matter how you want to save, you'll find that every Second National savings plan is Bank-Safe and pays the highest interest rate allowed by law.

You'll even find an Anytime Bank located at our Main Office at 136 East Main Street for making deposits and withdrawals to your passbook savings account twenty-four hours a day, every day of the year.

School Bus Drivers Given Job Break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dismissed Ohio school bus drivers with tenure now can fight to keep their jobs under new rules written by the state education department.

They can appeal their dismissals by writing their school boards within 15 days.

The state's new rules for drivers are the first changes in five years. They went into effect last Monday.

Two major changes allow school boards to hire 18-year-old drivers and diabetics whose illness is controlled solely by diet.

The new rules will apply for the driver examination period that begins in mid-April and continues until the beginning of the school year in September, said Herbert Brum, school finance director for the state.

A 23-member advisory group and a 12-member medical evaluation committee drew up the rule revisions, which took into account outside developments.

For instance, cutting back the minimum age for school bus drivers came because of the 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Allowing hiring of diabetics who control their disease by diet only follows advances in medical technology.

Before, no one under 21 could be hired and no confirmed diabetic was eligible.

If a school board fails to retain a driver, the driver may appeal.

If the dismissal comes on medical grounds, the driver's disqualification is subject to review by a second physician appointed by the controlling school authority. If the disqualification comes on other than medical grounds, the dismissal will be reviewed in a hearing before the board of education of the county, city or exempted village school district.

Appeal decisions are final and school authorities bear the costs, Brum said.

School driver rules are not regularly reviewed. Before 1970 the previous changes came in 1962. Rules reviews come on a basis of need developing over a period of time.

Brum said 17,000 school bus drivers and substitutes in Ohio are affected by the rules changes.

County Receives Welfare Money

Thomas E. Ferguson, Ohio State Auditor, reports Pickaway County will receive $29,534.19 in welfare assistance money distributed during the month of February.

The financial assistance is used to help the county cover the general relief and administration costs of the welfare operations which is derived primarily from state and partially from county revenue.

Revenue from state and federal funds helps reimburse the county for administering and purchasing family and children services such as day care, family planning and marital counseling programs.

2 Persons Slain

DILLONVALE, Ohio (AP) — Kelsie J. Noble, 75, of Dillonvale and Sophie Bell Grouch, 60, of Salt Run were shot to death in Noble's home early Tuesday in an apparent robbery in rural Jefferson County, the sheriff's office said.

Noble was a retired bus driver with cancer who was being cared for by Mrs. Grouch, a nurse. The day nurse discovered the two in the living room of the home, the sheriff's office said.

Ohio Historical Society Reopens Attractions

The Ohio Historical Society has reopened all but two of its historic attractions for the upcoming spring and summer travel season. The remaining two sites, Indian Mill, near Upper Sandusky, and Quaker Meeting House, at Mt. Pleasant, will be opened to the public May 1st.

Only seven of the Society's sites remain open throughout the year. The remaining properties closed each November 1st for the winter months because of the inclement weather.

The Ohio Historical Society, a private, non-profit corporation, operates 56 memorials and museums, more than any other state organization in the nation. The Society's attractions that are now open include 3 complete villages, 11 restored homes and estates of famous Ohioans, 17 modern museums, 12 prehistoric Indian sites, a presidential home and library, a steamboat, a canal boat, 5 natural history areas and more than a dozen other historic sites.

The growing interest in the Bicentennial, a tendency toward close-to-home vacations and extensive Society promotion are expected to help set new attendance records during the coming season. Visitation at Society sites is already more than 490,000 persons ahead of this same time last spring, as almost 2 million visitors have been recorded since July, the beginning of the fiscal year.

A free, 24 page, full-color booklet describing all of 56 of the Society's attractions is available by writing: "Get Away Into Ohio's Yesterday... Today." The Public Information Office, The Ohio Historical Center, Columbus, Ohio 43211.

Ferro Corp. Sees Drop In Profits

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ferro Corp. announced Monday that while sales were running ahead of figures for this time last year, profits would be down 25 to 30 per cent in the first quarter ended March 31, 1975.

The announcement came from Clifford Andrews of Beachwood, who was named chairman and chief executive officer Monday. He succeeds Harry Marks, who retired.

Andrews told shareholders at Monday's annual meeting that the slump in profits stemmed partly from inability to obtain quick approval from Brazil to raise prices to cover rapidly rising manufacturing costs there.

Last year, the producer of specialty chemical materials reported sales of $322 million and net income of $17.8 million or $4.38 a share.

Being Stopped By Patrolmen Horror Story

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Mrs. Ernest Lee says it was "like something out of a horror episode" when state highway patrolmen stopped the Lees' car on the Ohio Turnpike this week.

Mrs. Lee, 40, of Cleveland, said she and her husband, their two children and two grandchildren were returning Monday from an Easter visit with relatives in Chicago when they were stopped near the Wauseon Interchange.

She said the patrolman ordered the Lees at gunpoint to put their hands on the windshield. Then, she said, another patrolman pulled up in his cruiser, pointed a shotgun at them, ordered the family out of the car and handcuffed Lee, 51, and his son, Duchon, 15.

Mrs. Lee said members of the family kept protesting and asking what was wrong and finally were told that they were in a car that had been reported stolen in downtown Cleveland Jan. 12.

Mrs. Lee said it was true the car had been stolen. Lee reported it stolen Jan. 12, and police found it stripped the next day and returned it to him.

Mrs. Lee said Highway Patrolman M.J. McGowan apologized after checking their car registration and becoming convinced that they were telling the truth.

Cleveland police said the "stolen" listing on the car had been taken off their computer records, but because of a mechanical error it remained on the state and national listings of stolen cars.

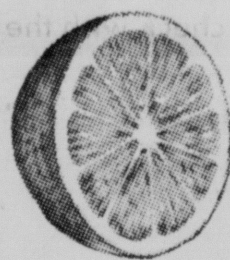

The mistake has since been corrected, police said Tuesday.

RESOLUTION NO. 34-75
A RESOLUTION APPOINTING AN ASSESSMENT EQUALIZATION BOARD TO HEAR OBJECTIONS RELATIVE TO THE IMPROVEMENT OF NICHOLAS DRIVE BETWEEN LANCASTER PIKE (U.S. 22) AND NORTHRIDGE ROAD (STATE ROUTE 184) BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO: SECTION 1: That Harry J. HIGHEST AWARD—George J. Myers, center, recently was awarded the Silver Beaver, the highest award given to Boy Scout volunteers. Myers has served the young boys of Pickaway County since 1960 as cubmaster, scoutmaster, camping chairman and presently advancement chairman of the District Committee. Twelve scouts have attained the rank of Eagle under his leadership. Earning the rank of Eagle under Myers, from the left, are, C. Whitfield, Dave Shank, Jim Shank and John Myers.

Being Stopped By Patrolmen Horror Story

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Ernest Lee says it was "like something out of a horror episode" when state highway patrolmen stopped the Lees' car on the Ohio Turnpike this week.

Mrs. Lee, 40, of Cleveland, said she and her husband, their two children and two grandchildren were returning Monday from an Easter visit with relatives in Chicago when they were stopped near the Wauseon Interchange.

She said the patrolman ordered the Lees at gunpoint to put their hands on the windshield. Then, she said, another patrolman pulled up in his cruiser, pointed a shotgun at them, ordered the family out of the car and handcuffed Lee, 51, and his son, Duchon, 15.

Mrs. Lee said members of the family kept protesting and asking what was wrong and finally were told that they were in a car that had been reported stolen in downtown Cleveland Jan. 12.

Mrs. Lee said it was true the car had been stolen. Lee reported it stolen Jan. 12, and police found it stripped the next day and returned it to him.

Mrs. Lee said Highway Patrolman M.J. McGowan apologized after checking their car registration and becoming convinced that they were telling the truth.

Cleveland police said the "stolen" listing on the car had been taken off their computer records, but because of a mechanical error it remained on the state and national listings of stolen cars.

The mistake has since been corrected, police said Tuesday.

School Bus Drivers Given Job Break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dismissed Ohio school bus drivers with tenure now can fight to keep their jobs under new rules written by the state education department.

They can appeal their dismissals by writing their school boards within 15 days.

The state's new rules for drivers are the first changes in five years. They went into effect last Monday.

Two major changes allow school boards to hire 18-year-old drivers and diabetics whose illness is controlled solely by diet.

The new rules will apply for the driver examination period that begins in mid-April and continues until the beginning of the school year in September, said Herbert Brum, school finance director for the state.

A 23-member advisory group and a 12-member medical evaluation committee drew up the rule revisions, which took into account outside developments.

For instance, cutting back the minimum age for school bus drivers came because of the 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Allowing hiring of diabetics who control their disease by diet only follows advances in medical technology.

Before, no one under 21 could be hired and no confirmed diabetic was eligible.

If a school board fails to retain a driver, the driver may appeal.

If the dismissal comes on medical grounds, the driver's disqualification is subject to review by a second physician appointed by the controlling school authority. If the disqualification comes on other than medical grounds, the dismissal will be reviewed in a hearing before the board of education of the county, city or exempted village school district.

Appeal decisions are final and school authorities bear the costs, Brum said.

School driver rules are not regularly reviewed. Before 1970 the previous changes came in 1962. Rules reviews come on a basis of need developing over a period of time.

Brum said 17,000 school bus drivers and substitutes in Ohio are affected by the rules changes.

County Receives Welfare Money

Thomas E. Ferguson, Ohio State Auditor, reports Pickaway County will receive $29,534.19 in welfare assistance money distributed during the month of February.

The financial assistance is used to help the county cover the general relief and administration costs of the welfare operations which is derived primarily from state and partially from county revenue.

Revenue from state and federal funds helps reimburse the county for administering and purchasing family and children services such as day care, family planning and marital counseling programs.

2 Persons Slain

DILLONVALE, Ohio (AP)—Kelsie J. Noble, 75, of Dillonvale and Sophie Bell Grouch, 60, of Salt Run were shot to death in Noble's home early Tuesday in an apparent robbery in rural Jefferson County, the sheriff's office said.

Noble was a retired bus driver with cancer who was being cared for by Mrs. Grouch, a nurse. The day nurse discovered the two in the living room of the home, the sheriff's office said.

Ohio Historical Society Reopens Attractions

The Ohio Historical Society has reopened all but two of its historic attractions for the upcoming spring and summer travel season. The remaining two sites, Indian Mill, near Upper Sandusky, and Quaker Meeting House, at Mt. Pleasant, will be opened to the public May 1st.

Only seven of the Society's sites remain open throughout the year. The remaining properties closed each November 1st for the winter months because of the inclement weather.

The Ohio Historical Society, a private, non-profit corporation, operates 56 memorials and museums, more than any other state organization in the nation. The Society's attractions that are now open include 3 complete villages, 11 restored homes and estates of famous Ohioans, 17 modern museums, 12 prehistoric Indian sites, a presidential home and library, a steamboat, a canal boat, 5 natural history areas and more than a dozen other historic sites.

The growing interest in the Bicentennial, a tendency toward close-to-home vacations and extensive Society promotion are expected to help set new attendance records during the coming season. Visitation at Society sites is already more than 490,000 persons ahead of this same time last spring, as almost 2 million visitors have been recorded since July, the beginning of the fiscal year.

A free, 24 page, full-color booklet describing all of 56 of the Society's attractions is available by writing: "Get Away Into Ohio's Yesterday... Today," The Public Information Office, The Ohio Historical Center, Columbus, Ohio 43211.

Ferro Corp. Sees Drop In Profits

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Ferro Corp. announced Monday that while sales were running ahead of figures for this time last year, profits would be down 25 to 30 per cent in the first quarter ended March 31, 1975.

The announcement came from Clifford Andrews of Beachwood, who was named chairman and chief executive officer Monday. He succeeds Harry Marks, who retired.

Andrews told shareholders at Monday's annual meeting that the slump in profits stemmed partly from inability to obtain quick approval from Brazil to raise prices to cover rapidly rising manufacturing costs there.

Last year, the producer of specialty chemical materials reported sales of $322 million and net income of $17.8 million or $4.38 a share.

U.S. Drought Could Starve World

Editor's Note — Delegates from the 50 states gather in Washington this month to talk about the nation's water supply. The world has reached a point where water and international politics mingle. What happens, for example, if severe drought hits the United States, the world's largest supplier of wheat? Following is the second of two articles on the world's water situation.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Hundreds of millions of people around the world, most without knowing it, are heavily dependent on continuing American weather, good fortune, and now some scientists say that luck may not hold out much longer.

As world nations take new and hard looks at their fresh water situations, the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) warns that whims of weather could mean disaster. A severe weather setback, like a drought, in the United States would have heavy impact, because Americans are the world's largest wheat exporters.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says if good weather prevails into this fall, record corn and wheat crops can spark recovery from severe grain reserves depletion in recent years. But world population is growing rapidly.

Dr. J. Mitchell Murray of the U.S. Environmental Data Service and Dr. James McQuigg, director of the Center for Climatic Environmental Assessment, agree that American luck with weather has been extraordinary for 15 years and thus see a likelihood that the benevolent period is about to end. "We've been extraordinarily lucky because the weather in major crop growing areas of the United States has been uniformly good for many years — so uniformly good that it's almost a fluke," says Dr. Murray.

"To make plans as if the climate were going to continue stable and favorable to U.S. agriculture would be absolutely irresponsible."

Statistics suggest drought every 20 years or so, and Dr. Murray says he's concerned, without being able to prove it, that there might be another cycle coming.

"I see circumstantial evidence for it," he says. "If there is a cycle, it's about time for us to have more drought."

Such possibilities impart a note of urgency to forthcoming water conferences. A U.N.-sponsored world meeting is planned in Buenos Aires in 1977, to be preceded by regional sessions. In the United States, delegates from all 50 states and foreign observers meet April 22-24 in Washington.

"We want to start moving in earnest before it's too late, because if we don't, the consequences can be painful in the United States and elsewhere," says a spokesman for the U.S. Water Resources Council, a cabinet-level body.

Among other things, nations want to define their manifold and complex problems. Constantly increasing quantities of industrial, agricultural, biological and military wastes steadily poison fresh water resources. Fertilizers and pesticides that increase food production also contaminate ground water, as does waste from big cattle populations. Competition for fresh water resources rises constantly.

The nations need to weigh new approaches and concepts, costs and priorities, technologies, education of large users in the avoidance of waste, especially in developing countries, and whether the ever-rising demand for fresh water can be reversed, among many other problems.

THE UNITED STATES

Although Americans face many sticky problems, they are better off with regard to water than 85 per cent of the world's nations. But water costs may soon be soaring for Americans.

Water management in the United States involves a multiplicity of legal entanglements, state laws, concepts and philosophies concerning rights and conflicting interests.

The forthcoming Washington conference will be regarded as an important step toward the first attempt by a large, qualified group to examine the national picture as a whole.

A recent National Water Commission report noted that demands of fresh water are increasing rapidly and added that "society cannot have all of everything it would like."

This suggested that some day resources may have to be apportioned for maximum beneficial return. One way of decreasing demand would be by a price mechanism whereby high cost would insure its being put to the most economic uses.

EUROPE

The nine European Common Market members have a 10-year program to attack waste disposal, industrial pollution and other questions.

Many millions of Europeans drink water after chemical purification. The West Germans, after spending more than $4 billion in five years to purify rivers, principally the Rhine, succeeded only in keeping pollution from getting worse.

East and West European scientists, worried about drought prospects, met in Berlin in February and noted that weather changes in the next 10 years could cause major crop failures in the northern Hemisphere.

SOVIET UNION

Some American experts credit the Russians with paying more attention to global water problems than any others, possibly because they occupy so much land. The Russians have concentrated on cleaning up rivers and reservoirs and have had notable success in rescuing magnificent Lake Baykal in Siberia.

MIDDLE EAST

Dr. Robert Clark of the Office of Hydrology in Washington says Egypt's Aswan High Dam is a scientific mistake. It has provided dependable flow and stored water for irrigation and reclamation and for hydroelectric power. But, scientists say, the Aswan, in a high evaporation area, will affect water resources along the Blue and White Niles. It will also, they say, end Egypt's Mediterranean fishing industry, increase snail-carrying diseases and rob Egypt of 50 million tons of fertile silt that the Nile had dropped annually in flood.

Algeria, however, is going forward with a dam project it hopes will raise a green barrier of reforestation to slow the steady advance of the Sahara and even alter climate in the area along the desert's edge.

DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

Scientists say there are boundless resources of fresh water deep under Africa's deserts, but that continent needs both money and will.

Developing countries now depend on rainfall for half their farm production. Thus, when rain fails, it means calamity. Africa's Sahel, a belt bordering the Sahara, has suffered long spells of drought that brought suffering and death to millions.

ASIA

Asia's always growing population means expanding food needs. This will require more effective use of flood waters and more storage facilities than now available. India, Pakistan and Bangladesh, along with Egypt, have asked rich nations and world organizations to provide up to $4 billion annually for seeking new water sources and improving conservation.

Iran has ambitious plans for using oil money on water programs.

China has sunk millions of pump wells and is building millions of reservoirs. She is still far short of taming her rivers, including the Yellow, whose raging floods earned the name of China's Sorrow.

WESTERN HEMISPHERE

Haiti provides an example of what misuse of land can cause. Haiti's subsurface water reserves are dangerously low after two centuries of neglect, primitive agriculture and deforestation, and she has made only a feeble start on remedies.

In Brazil, exploitation threatens even the Amazon jungle. The Brazilian

Land Taxes Keep Rising For Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices of commodities that farmers produce seem to go up and down at will, but taxes they pay on land keep rising, according to a new Agriculture Department study.

The tax trend appears to be continuing, although the department's economic research service said Tuesday that the cooling of inflation and tax reforms could have some effect.

In 1973, the most recent year examined, farm real estate taxes totaled $2.45 billion, an increase of 2.5 per cent from 1972. That put the average tax nationally at a record of $2.56 per acre, compared with $2.50 in 1972.

Department records showed that the per-acre farm real estate tax nationally, including state and local levies, has risen each year since 1942. Back then, the average was 38 cents per acre and yielded collectors $399.5 million, the report showed.

At the turn of the century, farm real estate taxes averaged 13 cents per acre and totaled $105.6 million.

Looking at developments since 1973 and at future prospects, the report commented:

"The future rate of increase in farm real estate taxes is uncertain. Increased demand for funds to finance local schools appears to have been damped somewhat... However, the demand for other local governmental services continues to expand."

Fire Reported In Local Woods

A fire in the woods at the end of Lawnwood Court was reported to the Circleville Fire Department by the authorities at Nicholas Drive School.

The fire was reported at 2:29 p.m. Tuesday and there was no evidence as to how the fire started.

Firemen beat out the fire. There was no report on loss.

Congress of Botanists has warned that the heavy destruction of forests may one day make the Amazon jungle arid.

Orient Institute Plans 'Hike Bike'

Parents, staff, friends and the volunteer Association of Orient State Institute are recruiting riders and volunteers for the first annual "Hike-Bike for Retarded Citizens" 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 27.

The participants will ride their bicycles over a selected rural route of 25 miles, starting at the intersection of Routes 56 and 22, west of Circleville and ending in Ashville at the Teays Valley High School.

Each rider is to secure as many sponsors as possible who will pledge a certain amount of money for each mile the cyclist completes.

At the completion of the ride there will be entertainment and prizes. A television will go to the school with the most participants and a drawing will be held to include all participants for two 10-speed bicycles.

Individuals interested in participating in the "Hike-Bike" may secure pledge forms, maps and completed instructions by contacting the Voluntary Services Department, Orient State Institute, at 877-4313.

Junior and senior high school students may also pickup the materials from their student council members or the Pickaway County Sheriff's Office.

The Institute wishes to make the event a family affair. Volunteers will travel in trucks in case bicycle repairs are necessary. Check points will also be scattered along the route.

Money collected for the hike should be returned to either Westfall, Logan Elm, Circleville, Teays Valley or Byron Bushman, H. Annex, extension 268-877-4314, Orient State Institute.

The "Hike Bike" is backed by the Ohio Association for Retarded Citizens, which is a part of the National Association for Retarded Citizens (NARC).

The nations need to weigh new approaches and concepts, costs and priorities, technologies, education of large users in the avoidance of waste, especially in developing countries, and whether the ever-rising demand for fresh water can be reversed, among many other problems.

Here is a brief look at the world picture:

THE UNITED STATES

Although Americans face many sticky problems, they are better off with regard to water than 85 per cent of the world's nations. But water costs may soon be soaring for Americans.

Water management in the United States involves a multiplicity of legal entanglements, state laws, concepts and philosophies concerning rights and conflicting interests.

The forthcoming Washington conference will be regarded as an important step toward the first attempt by a large, qualified group to examine the national picture as a whole.

A recent National Water Commission report noted that demands of fresh water are increasing rapidly and added that "society cannot have all of everything it would like."

This suggested that some day resources may have to be apportioned for maximum beneficial return. One way of decreasing demand would be by a price mechanism whereby high cost would insure its being put to the most economic uses.

EUROPE

The nine European Common Market members have a 10-year program to attack waste disposal, industrial pollution and other questions.

Many millions of Europeans drink water after chemical purification. The West Germans, after spending more than $4 billion in five years to purify rivers, principally the Rhine, succeeded only in keeping pollution from getting worse.

East and West European scientists, worried about drought prospects, met in Berlin in February and noted that weather changes in the next 10 years could cause major crop failures in the northern Hemisphere.

SOVIET UNION

Some American experts credit the Russians with paying more attention to global water problems than any others, possibly because they occupy so much land. The Russians have concentrated on cleaning up rivers and reservoirs and have had notable success in rescuing magnificent Lake Baykal in Siberia.

MIDDLE EAST

Dr. Robert Clark of the Office of Hydrology in Washington says Egypt's Aswan High Dam is a scientific mistake. It has provided dependable flow and stored water for irrigation and reclamation and for hydroelectric power. But, scientists say, the Aswan, in a high evaporation area, will affect water resources along the Blue and White Niles. It will also, they say, end Egypt's Mediterranean fishing industry, increase snail-carrying diseases and rob Egypt of 50 million tons of fertile silt that the Nile had dropped annually in flood.

Algeria, however, is going forward with a dam project it hopes will raise a green barrier of reforestation to slow the steady advance of the Sahara and even alter climate in the area along the desert's edge.

DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

Scientists say there are boundless resources of fresh water deep under Africa's deserts, but that continent needs both money and will.

Developing countries now depend on rainfall for half their farm production. Thus, when rain fails, it means calamity. Africa's Sahel, a belt bordering the Sahara, has suffered long spells of drought that brought suffering and death to millions.

ASIA

Asia's always growing population means expanding food needs. This will require more effective use of flood waters and more storage facilities than now available. India, Pakistan and Bangladesh, along with Egypt, have asked rich nations and world organizations to provide up to $4 billion annually for seeking new water sources and improving conservation. Iran has ambitious plans for using oil money on water programs.

China has sunk millions of pump wells and is building millions of reservoirs. She is still far short of taming her rivers, including the Yellow, whose raging floods earned the name of China's Sorrow.

WESTERN HEMISPHERE

Haiti provides an example of what misuse of land can cause. Haiti's subsurface water reserves are dangerously low after two centuries of neglect, primitive agriculture and deforestation, and she has made only a feeble start on remedies.

In Brazil, exploitation threatens even the Amazon jungle. The Brazilian

Land Taxes Keep Rising For Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices of commodities that farmers produce seem to go up and down at will, but taxes they pay on land keep rising, according to a new Agriculture Department study.

The tax trend appears to be continuing, although the department's economic research service said Tuesday that the cooling of inflation and tax reforms could have some effect.

In 1973, the most recent year examined, farm real estate taxes totaled $2.45 billion, an increase of 2.5 per cent from 1972. That put the average tax nationally at a record of $2.56 per acre, compared with $2.50 in 1972.

Department records showed that the per-acre farm real estate tax nationally, including state and local levies, has risen each year since 1942. Back then, the average was 38 cents per acre and yielded collectors $39.5 million, the report showed.

At the turn of the century, farm real estate taxes averaged 13 cents per acre and totaled $105.6 million.

Looking at developments since 1973 and at future prospects, the report commented:

"The future rate of increase in farm real estate taxes is uncertain. Increased demand for funds to finance local schools appears to have been damped somewhat... However, the demand for other local governmental services continues to expand."

Fire Reported In Local Woods

A fire in the woods at the end of Lawnwood Court was reported to the Circleville Fire Department by the authorities at Nicholas Drive School.

The fire was reported at 2:29 p.m. Tuesday and there was no evidence as to how the fire started.

Firemen beat out the fire. There was no report on loss.

Congress of Botanists has warned that the heavy destruction of forests may one day make the Amazon jungle arid.

Orient Institute Plans 'Hike Bike'

Parents, staff, friends and the volunteer Association of Orient State Institute is recruiting riders and volunteers for the first annual "Hike-Bike for Retarded Citizens" 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 27.

The participants will ride their bicycles over a selected rural route of 25 miles, starting at the intersection of Routes 56 and 22, west of Circleville and ending in Ashville at the Teays Valley High School.

Each rider is to secure as many sponsors as possible who will pledge a certain amount of money for each mile the cyclist completes.

At the completion of the ride there will be entertainment and prizes. A television will go to the school with the most participants and a drawing will be held to include all participants for two 10-speed bicycles.

Individuals interested in participating in the "Hike-Bike" may secure pledge forms, maps and completed instructions by contacting the Voluntary Services Department, Orient State Institute, at 877-4313.

Junior and senior high school students may also pickup the materials from their student council members or the Pickaway County Sheriff's Office.

The Institute wishes to make the event a family affair. Volunteers will travel in trucks in case bicycle repairs are necessary. Check points will also be scattered along the route.

Money collected for the hike should be returned to either Westfall, Logan Elm, Circleville, Teays Valley or Byron Bushman, H. Annex, extension 268-877-4314, Orient State Institute.

The "Hike Bike" is backed by the Ohio Association for Retarded Citizens, which is a part of the National Association for Retarded Citizens (NARC).

Atomic Plant Work Halted

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Northern Indiana Public Service Co. was under court order today to halt construction of Bailey nuclear power station on Lake Michigan and fill in the existing excavation.

The order issued by a three-member U.S. Court of Appeals panel in Chicago Tuesday was believed the first time a federal court permanently stopped construction of a nuclear plant.

Judge Robert A. Sprecher wrote in the opinion the panel found the Atomic Energy Commission violated its own regulations last August in granting a construction permit to NIPSCO.

The court noted AEC regulations say nuclear plants may not be located nearer than two miles to cities of at least 25,000 persons and cited Portage which is one mile from the site and expects a population of nearly 29,000 by 1980.

Braves Pound Westfall

Logan Elm downed Westfall 16-2 Tuesday picking up the third win of the season for the Braves. It was Westfall's first game.

Derek Morris was the winning pitcher, hurling six innings. He fanned 12, walked two and the only run scored by Westfall while he was on the mound was unearned. He was relieved in the seventh by Steve Rawlins who fanned one. They allowed a total of six hits.

For Westfall Tony Mosley was the starter and was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Craig Moore in the fourth and Chris Riddle came on in the sixth to finish the game.

They were bombed for 17 hits, walked five and fanned nine.

The Braves wasted no time Tuesday in getting in the scoring column. Jeff Reichelderfer and Randy Pontius both walked and scored on a triple by Scott Pontius. Rob Black then walked, Chuck Cave singled to drive in Scott Pontius and Black then scored on a wild pitch. Cave advanced on the wild pitch and scored on another one.

Westfall's first inning run came when Bill Hamman singled, advanced to second on an error and scored on a single by Chris Riddle.

The Braves scored a pair of runs in the fourth inning when Reichelderfer singled, scored on a double by Randy Pontius, who advanced on a single by Rawlins and then scored on an error.

Stuthard Leads Vikings To Win Over Wehrle Nine

Brad Stuthard hurled and batted the Teays Valley nine to a 5-1 win over Wehrle Tuesday on the Viking's diamond in the season opener.

He went all the way on the hill for the Blue and Gold, scattering five hits, and fanning two. He had perfect control as he failed to issue a walk in the contest.

The sophomore hurler also collected both of the Teays Valley hits, a double and single.

ABA Race May Hinge On Losers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Memphis Sounds and Virginia Squires, the teams with the worst records in the American Basketball Association, now get their chances to decide the best in the East after tuning up against each other.

They play the New York Nets and Kentucky Colonels, tied for the Eastern Division lead with 56-26 records, tonight and Thursday in the final two days of the regular season. Tonight, it's Virginia at Kentucky and Memphis at New York. Thursday, New York will be at Virginia, and Kentucky at Memphis.

Should the Nets and Colonels still be tied after Thursday night, they would hold a one-game playoff for the East title in Louisville Friday night.

The Sounds lifted their record to 27-55 and dropped Virginia's to 15-67, an ABA record for losses, trouncing the Squires 121-102 Tuesday night.

The Nets and Colonels, meanwhile, were idle, but in other ABA games, the Denver Nuggets trimmed the Indiana Pacers 126-115, the Spirits of St. Louis walloped the Utah Stars 122-109, and the San Antonio Spurs whipped the San Diego Conquistadors 130-113.

In the fifth, the Braves took advantage of Mustang miscues, singles by Mark Skinner, Morris, Reichelderfer, Randy Pontius and Cave and a double by Scott Pontius to score eight runs.

Their run in the sixth came when Randy Pontius reached first base on an error, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Scott Pontius.

Westfall's final run came in the seventh when Terry Hansen doubled and scored on a triple by Mosley.

Westfall's hits were singles by Hamman, Riddle, Mosley and Greg Varney, the double by Hansen and triple by Moore.

Scott Pontius wielded the big bat for the winners, driving in four runs with two singles, a double and a triple in five trips to the plate. Randy Pontius belted two singles and a double driving in three runs, Reichelderfer, Cave and Skinner had two singles each, Steve Marshall doubled and Morris and Mike Davis each singled. The next game for the Braves is Thursday at Berne Union. Steve Rawlins will be the starting pitcher. Thursday Westfall hosts Werhle.

Veteran Logan Elm catcher Greg Justus was injured last week and will be out of action for another two weeks, Coach Vic Pontius reported. Reichelderfer is handling the position for the Braves.

Wehrle, giving up both hits and six walks while striking out seven. Trapasso hurled one inning for the Wolverines. He failed to allow a hit but walked one and fanned one.

Wehrle scored its only run in the top of the second frame but the Viking pushed a run across in the bottom of the second to knot the count.

The Vikings took the lead with a single run in the third, added two in the fourth and added the final tally in the bottom of the fifth. Walks and wild pitches on the part of the Wehrle hurlers allowed the Viking runners to dent the plate.

Teays Valley is now 1-0 on the season and will be at Bexley Friday.

Braves Open Track Season

Logan Elm track team began its season Tuesday at Bexley, losing a dual meet 82 5-6 to 44 1-6.

In spite of the loss, LE track coach Bill Frost reported that "I was extremely pleased. The kids found out what they need to work on and what they need to do."

The Braves swept the discus with Brian Barr's throw of 118 feet 6 inches the winning effort. Seth Driesbach was second and Williams Third.

Driesbach won the shot for the braves with a heave of 42 feet 9 inches.

Roy Duffey won the 220 yard dash for LE, sprinting the distance in 23.4. He was also a member of the winning 880-yard relay team along with Wayne Linticum, David Hulse and John Eanes. The relay team was clocked in at 1:38.6.

The other first for the Braves was in the Mile relay where the winning quartet of Randy Watkins, Mike Patrick, Wes King and Tim Davis were clocked in 3:49.5.

All-MAC Cage Team Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Versatile Dan Roundfield and his mentor, Dick Parfitt, were named the Mid-American Conference basketball Player of the Year and Coach of the Year today by newsmen covering the league.

Roundfield, one of three unanimous choices on the coaches' all-conference team announced Tuesday, piled up a 3-to-1 margin over the 1974 MAC Player of the Year, Walter Luckett of Ohio University.

Parfitt, who just completed his fourth season at Central Michigan, was named on 102 of 128 ballots cast. He led the Chippewas to their first Mid-American basketball title with a 20-4 conference record and 22-6 for all games.

Pat Haley of Bowling Green finished second in the coach's balloting. Other mentors receiving votes were Eldon Miller of Western Michigan, Darrell Hedric of Miami (Ohio), Bob Nichols of Toledo and Kent State's Rex Hughes Jr.

Roundfield, runnerup in the 1974

voting behind Luckett, was an easy winner this time. The 6-foot-8 senior from Detroit led the conference in field goal accuracy with more than 61 per cent, was second in rebounding (11.7) and No. 3 in scoring (19.0).

Also mentioned on at least one ballot were Jeff Montgomery and Cornelius Cash of Bowling Green, James McElroy of Central Michigan, Larry Cole of Toledo, Paul Griffin of Western Michigan and Steve Fields of Miami (Ohio).

Besides Roundfield, McElroy and Cole were unanimous choices on the coaches' all-conference first team. Joining them were Luckett and Cash.

Second-team selections were Bob Riddle of Eastern Michigan, Jeff Tyson of Western Michigan, Fields, Montgomery and Griffin.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The coaches' Mid-American Conference all-star basketball team:

FIRST TEAM — Dan Roundfield, Central Michigan, 6-foot-8 senior, Detroit, 19.0 points per game; James McElroy, Central Michigan, 6-3 senior, Detroit, 18.1; Larry Cole, Toledo, 6-foot junior, Pontiac, Mich., 16.2; Cornelius Cash, Bowling Green, 6-7 senior, Dayton, Ohio, 15.3, and Walter Luckett, Ohio University, 6-4 junior, Bridgeport, Conn., 25.2.

SECOND TEAM — Steve Fields, Miami (Ohio), 6-5 senior, Columbus, Ohio, 15.1; Jeff Montgomery, Bowling Green, 6-foot senior, Miamisburg, Ohio, 19.8; Bob Riddle, Eastern Michigan, 6-9 sophomore, Lansing, Mich., 17.3; Paul Griffin, Western Michigan, 6-9 junior, Shelby, Mich., 10.7, and Jeff Tyson, Western Michigan, 6-3 junior, Fostoria, Ohio, 15.5.

HONORABLE MENTION — Skip Howard and Steve Cooper, Bowling Green; Jim Helmink, Central Michigan; Dan Hoff, Eastern Michigan; Ricky Gates and Brad Robinson, Kent State; Rod Dieringer, Randy Ayers, Dave Elmer and Chuck Goodyear, Miami (Ohio); George Green, Ohio University; Jim Kindle, Mike Larsen and Jim Brown, Toledo, and Tom Cutter, Jimmie Harvey and Jim Kurzen, Western Michigan.

Bob McAdoo Top Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob McAdoo of the Buffalo Braves, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, was named the league's Most Valuable Player for 1974-75, the NBA announced today.

The 6-foot-10 center, runnerup to Milwaukee Bucks center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar in last year's voting, polled 81 firstplace votes and 547 points in running away with the Podoloff Trophy balloting by NBA players.

Boston Celtics center Dave Cowens was second this time with 310 points, Elvin Hayes of the Washington Bullets was third at 289, Golden State's Rick Barry was fourth with 254 points and Abdul-Jabbar rounded out the top five with 161.

"I'm really happy. I can't believe it. It seems like a dream," said McAdoo, an overwhelming choice for Rookie of the Year honors as a forward in 1972-73.

In his rookie year, he averaged 18 points and 9.1 rebounds per game. That was just a warmup for a sophomore season in which he led the league in scoring with 30.8 points per game, had the top shooting percentage with 54.7 and was third in rebounding with 15.1.

Coon Hunters Reminded Of Game Hearings

The Ohio Federation of Coon Hunters urged its members and other coon hunters to attend the District Fish and Game Hearings Sunday.

Of particular interest to coon hunters and other night hunters is a proposed law which would prohibit dog training on all wildlife from sunset to sunrise from May 1 to Sept. 1 without a special permit from the Division of Wildlife.

Pickaway County is in District 1 and the hearing will be held at the Wildlife District Office, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus, 1 p.m. Sunday.

Softball Association Sets Friday Meeting

Goaldiggers Grab Berth In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toledo has clinched a semifinal berth in the International Hockey League's post-season tourney, but victories by Dayton and Saginaw still leave them one triumph away from similar spots.

The Goaldiggers edged Columbus 3-2 Tuesday to win the best-of-seven playoff series four games to one. Toledo used three goals in the second period to ice the victory and will meet the winner of the other South Division playoffs between Des Moines and Dayton in the semifinals.

Toledo scored first when Jim McCabe hit at 3:17 of the second period. Columbus tied it at 1-1, but goals by Jerry Badiuk and John Martin gave Toledo what it needed to win.

Don Wheldon scored on a power play goal with less than five minutes left in the game and Columbus Coach Moe Bartoli pulled his goalie and sent out a sixth attacker in a futile effort to tie and end the game into overtime.

Players in the Dayton-Des Moines puffed through one overtime and part of another, with Rick Bragnalo scoring with only 40 seconds gone in the second, sudden-death extra period to give Dayton a 3-2 victory. The Gems now have a 3-2 edge in their series.

The games was the longest of the season in the league at three hours and 20 minutes.

Arizona Wildcats Defeat Cleveland, 6-5

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians get back to "major league" baseball with the Oakland Athletics today, and it may be a relief after what the Arizona University Wildcats did to them.

Led by slugging sophomore Pete Van Horne, the Wildcats came from behind in the ninth inning Tuesday to defeat the Indians 6-5.

UCLA No. 1 In Final Cage Poll

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John Wooden didn't have to be told UCLA was the champion again. He already knew his Bruins had come out on top two ways.

UCLA was named No. 1 in The Associated Press' final poll of the 1974-75 season Tuesday, almost an anticlimax after it had captured the national championship Monday night with a 92-85 triumph over Kentucky in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament in San Diego.

The bespectacled 64-year-old former coach of the Bruins has repeatedly said that's the important championship. "Still, I am pleased that we are officially No. 1," said Wooden, echoing what he'd said two years ago when UCLA topped the tourney and the poll after that season ended.

"I don't think the polls mean as much in basketball as they do in football. In football, there is no way to determine a national champion on the field, but in basketball there is," Wooden said then. He acknowledged, however, that if a poll meant anything, it should be taken after the regular season.

The Bruins, however, were not unanimous choices.

Injuries Hurt Philadelphia Phillies

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Spring training developments have clouded the prospects of the Philadelphia Phillies, potentially a National League pennant contender.

Since training opened in Florida, reliever Tug McGraw has undergone an operation that will sideline him at least two weeks into the season; slugger Mike Schmidt hasn't hit any long balls, the home run bat of Greg Luzinski has been conspicuous by its absence, catcher Bob Boone can't throw out a runner, the pitching has been spotty and two outfield positions still are not solidified.

Manager Danny Ozark is concerned, but he still believes the Phillies will field a young, hard-hitting team, with excellent speed and tight defense. Ozark is confident that lefthander Steve Carlton will head an effective corps of starting pitchers, and that McGraw will be as good as ever after recovering from the removal of a growth on his back.

There is some concern about Schmidt, who led the major leagues in home runs and batted in 116 runs despite slumping in September. The third baseman suffered a bone bruise on his right arm and has been slow getting his stroke.

The Phillies' big strength is in the infield, where they start four Golden Glove runners-up. Willie Montanez, a .304 hitter with 79 RBI is at first; Dave Cash, a .300 hitting second baseman and the team's leader, combines with shortstop Larry Bowa, a .275 hitter with a super glove, Schmidt hit .282 and provided fine defense at third.

Only Luzinski, who missed most of the 1974 season with an injured knee that necessitated an operation, is a certain starter in left field. Rookie Alan Bannister, a speedster who stole 36 bases in the International League last year; Mike Anderson (.251) and Bill Robinson, coming off a .238 season, are the centerfield candidates. Jay Johnstone, who hit .295 in 110 games, figures to platoon in right with a loser of the centerfield competition.

The catching is a question mark. Boone, in his third major league season, has to improve his .242 batting average, but even more important he has to overcome a scatter arm. The backup catcher, Larry Cox, is strictly around for his fielding. He carries a weak stick.

The Phillies felt they had solved their bullpen deficiency in the trade last December that brought McGraw from the New York Mets. Without a healthy and effective McGraw, catching East Division champion Pittsburgh and runner-up St. Louis looks too tough. Also in the bullpen are righthander Gene Garber and lefthanders Joe Hoerner and Tom Hilgendorf, both picked up from the American League, and long reliever Ron Schueler.

The pitching could be first rate if young Dick Ruthven, 611, curbs his emotions and recovers from an operation to remove bone chips from his pitching arm; Wayne Twitchell, 6-9, snaps back after spending last season battling back from knee surgery, and Carlton, 16-13, and Jim Lonborg, 17-13, can maintain their consistency.

High Scores Top Cage Tournament

Long Branch and Porter's Dry Wall both came up with wins in the Stoutsville Independent Basketball Tournament Tuesday night at the Stoutsville Junior High gym.

Long Branch topped Pike County, 83-79. Rick Bozman paced the winners with 24 points while Roberts had 24 for Pike County.

Porter's Dry Wall swamped Super Duper, 151-71. Jones had 32 points to lead Porters while Blevins paced Super Duper with 21.

Tonight's games will send Hill's All Stars against Scioto Coca Cola at 6:30 p.m. and the 8 p.m. clash will find Hiatt's meeting Ginny's Beauty Salon.

Marcus Jackson Heads For Wright State Job

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — Marcus Jackson, 34, said Tuesday he is resigning as basketball coach at Dartmouth College to accept a similar position at Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio.

Jackson, whose team compiled an 8-18 record in his one season at Dartmouth, will succeed John Ross, who resigned at Wright State.

Jackson said he will take his assistant, Jerry Holbrook, with him to Wright State.

Ron Hunt of the St. Louis Cardinals holds the career record of being hit by pitched balls — 243 times.

Braves Pound Westfall

Logan Elm downed Westfall 16-2 Tuesday picking up the third win of the season for the Braves. It was Westfall's first game.

Derek Morris was the winning pitcher, hurling six innings. He fanned 12, walked two and the only run scored by Westfall while he was on the mound was unearned. He was relieved in the seventh by Steve Rawlins who fanned one. They allowed a total of six hits.

For Westfall Tony Mosley was the starter and was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Craig Moore in the fourth and Chris Riddle came on in the sixth to finish the game.

They were bombed for 17 hits, walked five and fanned nine.

The Braves wasted no time Tuesday in getting in the scoring column. Jeff Reichelderfer and Randy Pontius both walked and scored on a triple by Scott Pontius. Rob Black then walked, Chuck Cave singled to drive in Scott Pontius and Black then scored on a wild pitch. Cave advanced on the wild pitch and scored on another one.

Westfall's first inning run came when Bill Hamman singled, advanced to second on an error and scored on a single by Chris Riddle.

The Braves scored a pair of runs in the fourth inning when Reichelderfer singled, scored on a double by Randy Pontius, who advanced on a single by Rawlins and then scored on an error.

Stuthard Leads Vikings To Win Over Wehrle Nine

Brad Stuthard hurled and batted the Teays Valley nine to a 5-1 win over Wehrle Tuesday on the Viking's diamond in the season opener.

He went all the way on the hill for the Blue and Gold, scattering five hits, and fanning two. He had perfect control as he failed to issue a walk in the contest.

The sophomore hurler also collected both of the Teays Valley hits, a double and single.

ABA Race May Hinge On Losers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Memphis Sounds and Virginia Squires, the teams with the worst records in the American Basketball Association, now get their chances to decide the best in the East after tuning up against each other.

They play the New York Nets and Kentucky Colonels, tied for the Eastern Division lead with 56-26 records, tonight and Thursday in the final two days of the regular season. Tonight, it's Virginia at Kentucky and Memphis at New York. Thursday, New York will be at Virginia, and Kentucky at Memphis.

Should the Nets and Colonels still be tied after Thursday night, they would hold a one-game playoff for the East title in Louisville Friday night.

The Sounds lifted their record to 27-55 and dropped Virginia's to 15-67, an ABA record for losses, trouncing the Squires 121-102 Tuesday night.

The Nets and Colonels, meanwhile, were idle, but in other ABA games, the Denver Nuggets trimmed the Indiana Pacers 126-115, the Spirits of St. Louis walloped the Utah Stars 122-109, and the San Antonio Spurs whipped the San Diego Conquistadors 130-113.

Wehrle, giving up both hits and six walks while striking out seven. Trapasso hurled one inning for the Wolverines. He failed to allow a hit but walked one and fanned one.

Wehrle scored its only run in the top of the second frame but the Viking pushed a run across in the bottom of the second to knot the count.

The Vikings took the lead with a single run in the third, added two in the fourth and added the final tally in the bottom of the fifth. Walks and wild pitches on the part of the Wehrle hurlers allowed the Viking runners to dent the plate.

Teays Valley is now 1-0 on the season and will be at Bexley Friday.

Braves Open Track Season

Logan Elm track team began its season Tuesday at Bexley, losing a dual meet 82 5-6 to 44 1-6.

In spite of the loss, LE track coach Bill Frost reported that "I was extremely pleased. The kids found out what they need to work on and what they need to do."

The Braves swept the discus with Brian Barr's throw of 118 feet 6 inches the winning effort. Seth Driesbach was second and Williams Third.

Driesbach won the shot for the Braves with a heave of 42 feet 9 inches.

Roy Duffey won the 220 yard dash for LE, sprinting the distance in 23.4. He was also a member of the winning 880-yard relay team along with Wayne Linthicum, David Hulse and John Eanes. The relay team was clocked in at 1:38.6.

The other first for the Braves was in the Mile relay where the winning quartet of Randy Watkins, Mike Patrick, Wes King and Tim Davis were clocked in 3:49.5.

All-MAC Cage Team Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Versatile Dan Roundfield and his mentor, Dick Parfitt, were named the Mid-American Conference basketball Player of the Year and Coach of the Year today by newsmen covering the league.

Roundfield, one of three unanimous choices on the coaches' all-conference team announced Tuesday, piled up a 3-to-1 margin over the 1974 MAC Player of the Year, Walter Luckett of Ohio University.

Parfitt, who just completed his fourth season at Central Michigan, was named on 102 of 128 ballots cast. He led the Chippewas to their first Mid-American basketball title with a 20-4 conference record and 22-6 for all games.

Pat Haley of Bowling Green finished second in the coach's balloting. Other mentors receiving votes were Eldon Miller of Western Michigan, Darrell Hedric of Miami (Ohio), Bob Nichols of Toledo and Kent State's Rex Hughes Jr.

Roundfield, runnerup in the 1974

voting behind Luckett, was an easy winner this time. The 6-foot-8 senior from Detroit led the conference in field goal accuracy with more than 61 per cent, was second in rebounding (11.7) and No. 3 in scoring (19.0).

Also mentioned on at least one ballot were Jeff Montgomery and Cornelius Cash of Bowling Green, James McElroy of Central Michigan, Larry Cole of Toledo, Paul Griffin of Western Michigan and Steve Fields of Miami (Ohio).

Besides Roundfield, McElroy and Cole were unanimous choices on the coaches' all-conference first team. Joining them were Luckett and Cash. Second-team selections were Bob Riddle of Eastern Michigan, Jeff Tyson of Western Michigan, Fields, Montgomery and Griffin.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The coaches' Mid-American Conference all-star basketball team:

FIRST TEAM — Dan Roundfield, Central Michigan, 6-foot-8 senior, Detroit, 19.0 points per game; James McElroy, Central Michigan, 6-3 senior, Detroit, 18.1; Larry Cole, Toledo, 6-foot junior, Pontiac, Mich., 16.2; Cornelius Cash, Bowling Green, 6-7 senior, Dayton, Ohio, 15.3, and Walter Luckett, Ohio University, 6-4 junior, Bridgeport, Conn., 25.2.

SECOND TEAM — Steve Fields, Miami (Ohio), 6-5 senior, Columbus, Ohio, 15.1; Jeff Montgomery, Bowling Green, 6-foot senior, Miamisburg, Ohio, 19.8; Bob Riddle, Eastern Michigan, 6-9 sophomore, Lansing, Mich., 17.3; Paul Griffin, Western Michigan, 6-9 junior, Shelby, Mich., 10.7, and Jeff Tyson, Western Michigan, 6-3 junior, Fostoria, Ohio, 15.5.

HONORABLE MENTION — Skip Howard and Steve Cooper, Bowling Green; Jim Helmink, Central Michigan; Dan Hoff, Eastern Michigan; Ricky Gates and Brad Robinson, Kent State; Rod Dieringer, Randy Ayers, Dave Elmer and Chuck Goodyear, Miami (Ohio); George Green, Ohio University; Jim Kindle, Mike Larsen and Jim Brown, Toledo, and Tom Cutter, Jimmie Harvey and Jim Kurzen, Western Michigan.

Bob McAdoo Top Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob McAdoo of the Buffalo Braves, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, was named the league's Most Valuable Player for 1974-75, the NBA announced today.

The 6-foot-10 center, runnerup to Milwaukee Bucks center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar in last year's voting, polled 81 firstplace votes and 547 points in running away with the Podoloff Trophy balloting by NBA players.

Boston Celtics center Dave Cowens was second this time with 310 points, Elvin Hayes of the Washington Bullets was third at 289, Golden State's Rick Barry was fourth with 254 points and Abdul-Jabbar rounded out the top five with 161.

"I'm really happy. I can't believe it. It seems like a dream," said McAdoo, an overwhelming choice for Rookie of the Year honors as a forward in 1972-73.

In his rookie year, he averaged 18 points and 9.1 rebounds per game. That was just a warmup for a sophomore season in which he led the league in scoring with 30.8 points per game, had the top shooting percentage with 54.7 and was third in rebounding with 15.1.

Coon Hunters Reminded Of Game Hearings

The Ohio Federation of Coon Hunters urged its members and other coon hunters to attend the District Fish and Game Hearings Sunday.

Of particular interest to coon hunters and other night hunters is a proposed law which would prohibit dog training on all wildlife from sunset to sunrise from May 1 to Sept. 1 without a special permit from the Division of Wildlife.

Pickaway County is in District 1 and the hearing will be held at the Wildlife District Office, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus, 1 p.m. Sunday.

Softball Association Sets Friday Meeting

Goaldiggers Grab Berth In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toledo has clinched a semifinal berth in the International Hockey League's post-season tourney, but victories by Dayton and Saginaw still leave them one triumph away from similar spots.

The Goaldiggers edged Columbus 3-2 Tuesday to win the best-of-seven playoff series four games to one. Toledo used three goals in the second period to ice the victory and will meet the winner of the other South Division playoffs between Des Moines and Dayton in the semifinals.

Toledo scored first when Jim McCabe hit at 3:17 of the second period. Columbus tied it at 1-1, but goals by Jerry Badiuk and John Martin gave Toledo what it needed to win.

Don Wheldon scored on a power play goal with less than five minutes left in the game and Columbus Coach Moe Bartoli pulled his goalie and sent out a sixth attacker in a futile effort to tie and end the game into overtime.

Players in the Dayton-Des Moines puffed through one overtime and part of another, with Rick Bragnalo scoring with only 40 seconds gone in the second, sudden-death extra period to give Dayton a 3-2 victory. The Gems now have a 3-2 edge in their series.

The games was the longest of the season in the league at three hours and 20 minutes.

Arizona Wildcats Defeat Cleveland, 6-5

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians get back to "major league" baseball with the Oakland Athletics today, and it may be a relief after what the Arizona University Wildcats did to them.

Led by slugging sophomore Pete Van Horne, the Wildcats came from behind in the ninth inning Tuesday to defeat the Indians 6-5.

UCLA No. 1 In Final Cage Poll

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John Wooden didn't have to be told UCLA was the champion again. He already knew his Bruins had come out on top two ways.

UCLA was named No. 1 in The Associated Press' final poll of the 1974-75 season Tuesday, almost an anticlimax after it had captured the national championship Monday night with a 92-85 triumph over Kentucky in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament in San Diego.

The bespectacled 64-year-old former coach of the Bruins has repeatedly said that's the important championship. "Still, I am pleased that we are officially No. 1," said Wooden, echoing what he'd said two years ago when UCLA topped the tourney and the poll after that season ended.

"I don't think the polls mean as much in basketball as they do in football. In football, there is no way to determine a national champion on the field, but in basketball there is," Wooden said then. He acknowledged, however, that if a poll meant anything, it should be taken after the regular season.

The Bruins, however, were not unanimous choices.

Injuries Hurt Philadelphia Phillies

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Spring training developments have clouded the prospects of the Philadelphia Phillies, potentially a National League pennant contender.

Since training opened in Florida, reliever Tug McGraw has undergone an operation that will sideline him at least two weeks into the season; slugger Mike Schmidt hasn't hit any long balls, the home run bat of Greg Luzinski has been conspicuous by its absence, catcher Bob Boone can't throw out a runner, the pitching has been spotty and two outfield positions still are not solidified.

Manager Danny Ozark is concerned, but he still believes the Phillies will field a young, hard-hitting team, with excellent speed and tight defense. Ozark is confident that lefthander Steve Carlton will head an effective corps of starting pitchers, and that McGraw will be as good as ever after recovering from the removal of a growth on his back.

There is some concern about Schmidt, who led the major leagues in home runs and batted in 116 runs despite slumping in September. The third baseman suffered a bone bruise on his right arm and has been slow getting his stroke.

The Phillies' big strength is in the infield, where they start four Golden Glove runners-up. Willie Montanez, a .304 hitter with 79 RBI is at first; Dave Cash, a .300 hitting second baseman and the team's leader, combines with shortstop Larry Bowa, a .275 hitter with a super glove. Schmidt hit .282 and provided fine defense at third.

Only Luzinski, who missed most of the 1974 season with an injured knee that necessitated an operation, is a certain starter in left field. Rookie Alan Bannister, a speedster who stole 36 bases in the International League last year; Mike Anderson (.251) and Bill Robinson, coming off a .238 season, are the centerfield candidates. Jay Johnstone, who hit .295 in 110 games, figures to platoon in right with a loser of the centerfield competition.

The catching is a question mark. Boone, in his third major league season, has to improve his .242 batting average, but even more important he has to overcome a scatter arm. The backup catcher, Larry Cox, is strictly around for his fielding. He carries a weak stick.

The Phillies felt they had solved their bullpen deficiency in the trade last December that brought McGraw from the New York Mets. Without a healthy and effective McGraw, catching East Division champion Pittsburgh and runner-up St. Louis looks too tough. Also in the bullpen are righthander Gene Garber and lefthanders Joe Hoerner and Tom Hilgendorf, both picked up from the American League, and long reliever Ron Schueler.

The pitching could be first rate if young Dick Ruthven, 611, curbs his emotions and recovers from an operation to remove bone chips from his pitching arm; Wayne Twitchell, 6-9, snaps back after spending last season battling back from knee surgery, and Carlton, 16-13, and Jim Lonborg, 17-13, can maintain their consistency.

High Scores Top Cage Tournament

Long Branch and Porter's Dry Wall both came up with wins in the Stoutsville Independent Basketball Tournament Tuesday night at the Stoutsville Junior High gym.

Long Branch topped Pike County, 83-79. Rick Bozman paced the winners with 24 points while Roberts had 24 for Pike County.

Porter's Dry Wall swamped Super Duper, 151-71. Jones had 32 points to lead Porters while Blevins paced Super Duper with 21.

Tonight's games will send Hill's All Stars against Scioto Coca Cola at 6:30 p.m. and the 8 p.m. clash will find Hiatt's meeting Ginny's Beauty Salon.

Marcus Jackson Heads For Wright State Job

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Marcus Jackson, 34, said Tuesday he is resigning as basketball coach at Dartmouth College to accept a similar position at Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio.

Jackson, whose team compiled an 8-18 record in his one season at Dartmouth, will succeed John Ross, who resigned at Wright State.

Jackson said he will take his assistant, Jerry Holbrook, with him to Wright State.

Ron Hunt of the St. Louis Cardinals holds the career record of being hit by pitched balls — 243 times.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Avoid confusion through proper preplanning. Weigh well the pros and cons when you must render a decision. The wrong one could backfire.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Some planetary restrictions. Watch for irritating situations and bridge them amicably and with unbiased opinion. Move briskly into productive areas.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You can not only make the grade, but add some new zest to your routine. Shape your endeavors to meet demands and you should have a profitable day.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Curb impulsiveness and make no hasty decisions. Stellar influences are favorable, but the slow-and-steady worker will accomplish most.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): What you feel is a certainty could be mere wishful thinking. Better take a second look and change plans if necessary.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Good aspects. Late afternoon could bring unexpectedly gratifying support from superiors and associates — which should boost your morale considerably.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Caution urged in business negotiations. Certain factors you may have taken for granted may prove otherwise. Be especially careful with details.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A sharp and, in some areas, unexpected surge of activity. Keep in step with events — but without anxiety.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Certain situations may be more complex than you realize. Avoid any involvement that could damage your prestige.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Morning hours favor the exchange of ideas, programming for future activities, business conferences generally. Accent is on the social after 3 p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Keep both feet on the ground now. There's a tendency to confuse the imaginatively creative with the offbeat and impractical.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Be prepared for surprises — especially in social circles. Certain odd persons or bizarre doings may raise your eyebrows. But you WILL be amused.

YOU BORN TODAY are governed by Aries, zodiacal Sign of strength, purpose, versatility, mental and physical vitality. You have a magnetic personality, enjoy people, seeing new places, travel for adventure. You love to entertain and you make friends along life's way — but you sometimes lose them through overaggressiveness or an occasional tendency to "talk out of turn." Try to curb these traits — for your own peace of mind. There are many fields in which you could carve a successful career but, with your gift or words, you would probably enjoy writing the most. If you do not take up some form of literature as an occupation, you would surely enjoy a hobby along these lines. Other excellent outlets for your talents: music, the theater, the law, politics, sculpture. Birthdate of: Washington Irving, Amer. author; John Burroughs, poet, naturalist; Marlon Brando and Doris Day, film stars.

Yesterday's Diseases Pose Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans, lulled by a false sense of security, may face epidemics of "yesterday's" diseases unless immunization of children and adults is intensified, warns Medical World News.

The heart of the problem, the magazine points out, is parental apathy and a reluctance by some physicians to push the vaccinations that provide immunity to such diseases as polio, measles, mumps, rubella (German measles), diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis (whooping cough).

Medical World News reports "... widespread fantasy prevails that these are diseases of the past. But epidemiologists warn that serious outbreaks and epidemics are happening, that immunization levels are dangerously low throughout the United States and that more severe and more sweeping epidemics of some diseases threaten, as the number of unprotected persons increases."

On Jan. 30, 1787, Thomas Jefferson told James Madison "a little rebellion now and then is a good thing."

The National Automobile Club says proper care of your car's battery can eliminate many unpleasant incidents.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Wonder of wonders, tonight's first edition of the revamped "Feeling Good" public TV show gives healthy signs this $6.5 million health care series may survive its very shaky start.

The show primarily is a straightforward study of how one family answered the modern-day question of whether aged relatives unable to cope for themselves should be cared for at home or put in a nursing home. It's an excellent program and far superior to the hour-long efforts seen on "Feeling Good" when it premiered last November, preceded by a heavy publicity campaign. At that time, the series seemed doomed. It looked like a badly conceived, poorly written variety show starring various ailments of the Week. Its health tips usually came in dull, coy skits.

Viewers shunned it and it went off the air Jan. 29, after 11 shows, so that its producer, the Children's Television Workshop, could tinker with the format and attempt a comeback in the spring.

The new format only covers one subject a week, the topics ranging from teen-age drinking and drug use to recovery from heart disease.

Tonight's study of the aged and family attitudes toward them focuses on the last months of Frank Tugend, a retired Scranton, Pa., coal miner in his 80s. CTW officials say he died late last year.

His close-knit clan kept an extensive family photo album. One photo they gave the program shows him cradling one of his grandsons in his arms; the next shot shows the grandson, now in his late 20s, cradling a now-feeble and thin Frank Tugend in his arms.

It brilliantly illustrates Cavett's observation that those "who gave us strength when we were young can suddenly need it from us when they are old."

The Tugend family had chosen to care for the head of the clan at home, to not put him in a nursing home, even though he was growing senile and his physical condition became so poor he couldn't control his bowels.

The deterioration of Tugend, a proud, strong man, is compassionately shown in a sensitive series of photos taken by two of his grandsons.

The comments of the two men and the rest of the family on why they wanted him cared for and not put in a nursing home to die add up to a powerful portrait of family love and respect.

The program briefly warns that not all families can do what the Tugends did.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Report Recession Now Nearing End; Upturn By Midyear

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government economic experts say there now is firm evidence that the nation's deep recession is nearing an end, but they are not yet sure how strong the economic recovery will be.

The nation's economy should get a substantial boost from the 1974 income tax rebates that the Internal Revenue Service said Tuesday it will begin mailing to taxpayers on May 9. All of an estimated 78 million rebate checks will have been sent by June 30, the IRS said.

But even without the tax rebates, the economy would soon be on the road to recovery, government officials say.

"Every recession carries the seeds of its own recovery, and this one is no exception," Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said in an interview Tuesday.

Government economists say the recession will officially end when it hits its low point and the economic recovery begins. One key economist at the Federal Reserve Board said the low point may already have been reached.

"The economy is showing signs of bottoming out in the last few weeks even without a tax cut," said this economist, who did not want to be quoted by name. He said an economic recovery in the second half of the year "is assured, and it likely will be quite vigorous."

James L. Pate, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs, said he also sees "encouraging signs" that the recession is approaching the bottom.

He said the recession in the first quarter has been a little worse than expected and that the upturn could come before midyear. The drop in the economy for 1975 likely will be closer to 3.5 per cent than the 3.3 per cent estimated by the administration earlier, he added.

Simon said he is sticking with his earlier predictions for an end to the recession at midyear, with a resumption of positive economic growth in the fourth quarter.

"Anybody who thinks he has a clear outlook for the future is kidding himself," Simon said.

He also said the positive indications of an economic upturn are unlikely to be seen in the unemployment statistics for some months. He said he still estimates that the jobless rate will peak at near 9 per cent — up from 8.2 per cent in February — in the months ahead.

He said unemployment should start easing by the fourth quarter.

Indiana Woman Among Ohio Buckeye 300 Contestants

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Indiana has a contestant this week in what's described as television's "the only game show in which the losers win $15,000," the Buckeye 300 lottery.

A lottery spokesman used the phrase in announcing the five who will compete Thursday for prizes of $300,000 and $30,000.

He also said there still are eight Ohio lottery tickets in the hands of unknown purchasers which, once they've been validated, will win at least the $15,000 minimum the Buckeye 300 lottery guarantees.

Unless they've already been discarded, he added.

Ohio lottery operators can tell how many winners there are still outstanding by checking the computer that numbers the tickets.

Buckeye 300 prizes range downward from $300,000 weekly. When there are at least eight participants in a given week, the prizes include the second-place award of $60,000, but with fewer contestants it is omitted.

For Thursday's competition, the first without a Cleveland and again without enough participants to warrant inclusion of the $60,000 prize, the contestants were listed as Steven E. Aller of Columbus; Annie Diamond of Richmond, Ind.; Jack F. Manne of Canton; James S. MacArtney, Lorain; and Thomas L. Goodwin, Toledo.

The Buckeye 300 elimination makes up the major portion of the weekly telecast during which are selected the winning single and double numbers that determine which tickets are good for prizes each week. The program originates in Cleveland and is carried by a seven-station Ohio network.

City Police Investigate Theft, Vandalism Reports

Circleville Police are investigating two theft reports, an unsuccessful attempt at another, and two cases of vandalism.

Thieves committed $175 damage to a soap dispensing machine while taking $2.25 in change from two coin boxes Tuesday night or Wednesday morning at the Duds and Suds laundry, 138 E. Franklin St.

Richard Smith, 418 S. Pickaway St., reported the incident to police.

The thieves apparently pried the bottom from the machine and broke off locks to gain entry to the two coin boxes.

Rex Rumley, 483 E. Main St., reported that thieves removed a CB radio antenna by taking it from the base of its mount on his car. The antenna was valued at $30.

Steve Heeter, 121 Walnut St., told police that thieves unsuccessfully tried to pry open a soft drink machine at the Washing Well laundry, 1002 1/2 S. Court St.

One side of double windows on the Walnut St. side of the building were broken.

Manager Carl Carroll told police that he discovered the damage when he returned to clean the apartment Tuesday morning.

Entry was apparently gained through rear sliding glass doors. There was a note in the door, apparently from the vandals.

Charcoal was crushed into carpeting in the south bedroom, crayons were crushed into the rear bedroom carpet, paint was spilled on the carpeting in spots, and part of the carpet was bleached.

Police also found writing on the walls.

Vandals scratched deep marks in the side of a pick-up truck owned by Melvin Leasure, 324 S. Washington St.
